Mayor Decrees 30 Days Off

Fire Chief Bryan Handed Suspension Without Pay

Charging unauthorized use of a city-owned station wagon, Mayor Fred P. Lawrence late Monday afternoon ordered a 30-day payless suspension for Fire Chief Charles Bryan, effective Wednesday.

The mayor cited five alleged violations in the formal letter of suspension handed the chief, all of them based on trips to Salem and Midland on Oct. 30 in the red station wagon which the city provides for the fire chief's use.

The letter provides the suspension will be effective Dec. 2-31, inclusive. It explains that Civil Service Law allows the chief until noon tomorrow to file a written explanation with the mayor.

Noon tomorrow also is the time fixed for filing the notice of suspension officially with the Municipal Civil Service Commission.

Chief Bryan has five days from the date of the order to request a hearing before the commission. Law provides that the next step up in the avenue of appeal is to the Common Pleas Court at Lisbon, but only after the case has been before the local Civil Service Commission.

Here are the five charges the

mayor made against the chief in the suspension notice.

"Using city-owned property for personal use in driving the fire department station wagon to Salem or about Oct. 30, 1959, to visit a relative.

"Having an unauthorized passenger in a city-owned vehicle on the date and for the trip mentioned above.

"Taking city-owned property outside the city limits without obtaining permission from the director of public service-safety.

"Taking city-owned property to Midland, Pa., on Oct. 30, 1959, without permission of the director.

"Taking city-owned radio equipment beyond the operational limits, thus leaving the fire department without radio contact."

If the chief files the written explanation with the mayor, both the charges and the chief's reply will be turned over to the commission, Lawrence said in his letter.

The mayor said he delivered the letter to the chief personally at 3:45 p. m. yesterday in the mayor's office.

The mayor also explained the circumstances behind the investigation which led to the chief's suspension.

"He admitted to these things and this is the resulting action," the mayor added.

"We got a report that the fire

Trial Against 2 Americans Ends In Cuba

Court's Verdict On Alleged Conspiracy Slated Wednesday

HAVANA (AP)—A military tribunal today ended an 18-hour trial of 2 Americans and 37 Cubans accused of conspiring to overthrow Prime Minister Fidel Castro's revolutionary regime. The court announced it would not reach its verdict before Wednesday.

The prosecution demanded the firing squad for Frank Austin Young, 38, a commercial pilot who was born in Indianapolis, Ind., and makes his home in Miami, Fla., and for Fernando Pruno Bertot, 24, Cuban, and former student at Columbia University in New York.

Thirty-year prison sentences were sought against 12 others, including Peter John Lambton, 24, a British-born naturalized American of Nassau, Bahamas.

The government said it would accept lesser sentences or even acquittal for the other defendants. Under new legal rules recently promulgated by Castro's cabinet, the prosecution as well as the defense can appeal a verdict.

A second tribunal was scheduled to begin hearing testimony in Havana today against Rafael Del Pino, 33, of Miami, a naturalized American who once supported Castro, and five Cubans, all accused of being counter-revolutionaries. The death sentence is sought for all six.

Del Pino was captured last July when he flew a small plane in from Florida and tried to pick up Cubans seeking to leave the country.

Young, Lambton and their Cuban codefendants were captured during a clash with Cuban troops during which one soldier was killed.

Both Americans denied in pre-trial statements that they came to Cuba to plot against the government. Lambton said he was on an assignment to take pictures of counter-revolutionaries for an American company he identified as the Independent Press Service.

The two cases are the first to be handled by military tribunals since their reinstatement. During the first six months of the Castro regime, they sent about 555 persons before firing squads.

Chants of "to the firing squad wall" rang out at Santiago Monday night after Castro asked a crowd of 500,000, "What do you want for counter-revolutionaries?"

The bearded leader lashed out at foreign interests and Cuba's wealthy during a three-hour speech marking the third anniversary of his revolution, which began in Santiago.

Continuance Granted In Shooting Hearing

Squire John D. Herron has granted a continuance until Wednesday at 1 p. m. for a hearing for William Seletos, 36, 212 Washington St., Newell who is accused of felonious assault in connection with the shooting of Frank Hansen, 33, a Waterford Park exercise boy.

Hansen was shot in the head Nov. 12 at a Waterford Park restaurant.

Seletos was previously scheduled for a hearing Monday night. It was the second continuance granted the Newell man.

Bonn Leader And DeGaulle Launch Talks

PARIS (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer came to Paris today for another round of talks with President Charles de Gaulle. Spokesmen emphasized that they agree completely on major issues facing the Western Allies, but some lesser disagreements have cropped up.

The two-day meeting is the fourth between the two leaders since De Gaulle returned to power 18 months ago. In that period Adenauer and the French president have achieved a unity which has become one of the strongest forces in the Western Alliance.

Observers speculated they would review such pressing matters as plans for the Western summit meeting in Paris Dec. 19, the status of West Berlin and German reunification, the disarmament problem and European unity.

Adenauer and De Gaulle also undoubtedly will discuss the chancellor's visit last month to London, in which he and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan patched up some of the differences between them which had caused considerable concern among their other allies.

Leaving Bonn, Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano said he believed "we do not have any bilateral problems which could cause us any worry."

However, the widely circulated "Bild Zeitung" newspaper said editorially Adenauer was taking "some heavy luggage" to Paris and wondered whether he would dare to unpack it.

Items of disagreement, the paper said, include (1) De Gaulle's repeated statements that France would retain control of her forces in any future war instead of placing control with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, (2) the recent arrest by the French of a German ship with arms for North Africa, (3) activities of anti-Algerian French terrorists in Germany, and (4) statements by De Gaulle and Prime Minister Michel Debre that Polish and Soviet occupation of former German territory beyond the Oder-Neisse River frontier should be considered a closed issue.

'Could Raze Potential Enemies'

Mr. K Boasts Of Stockpile Of Rockets With Warhead

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said today that the Soviet Union has a stockpile of rockets with nuclear warheads sufficient "to raze to the ground all our potential enemies."

But the visiting Premier said the Soviet Union was "ready to destroy all these stockpiles at once if a universal disarmament program is adopted."

The Soviet Union still wants an East-West summit meeting as soon as possible, he told the congress of the Hungarian Communist party, the first since the 1956 anti-Soviet revolt in Hungary.

Another U.N. Vote Set On Seating Issue

Assembly Hopes To Break Deadlock By Poland And Turkey

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—With no break in sight, the U.N. General Assembly scheduled another attempt today to resolve the deadlock between Communist Poland and U.S.-backed Turkey in their contest for a Security Council seat.

There was a flurry of rumors and denials that some compromise was afoot. The Assembly was expected to take six more ballots — if the deadlock still held — set another vote next week.

It appeared likely Poland would lose two of the votes of the Scandinavian nations, which the Poles had had throughout the balloting. Norwegian Deputy Foreign Minister Hans Engen said in Oslo his delegation would switch its vote in an effort to break the deadlock, and a press report from Copenhagen said the Danish delegation would go along.

This shift alone would not give Turkey the two-thirds majority necessary for election, but Turkey's Western backers were hopeful it would start a trend for their candidate.

Before the last round of balloting, Canada and several Latin American nations suggested to the two contestants that they split the two-year term. Turkey agreed to the proposal, but Poland turned it down.

The contest for the seat now held by Japan started Oct. 12 and has run an unprecedented 43 ballots. Shortly after the start of the race Poland came within six votes of victory. On the 43rd ballot last Tuesday the vote stood at 42 for Poland, 39 for Turkey and one abstention.

The United States, backing Turkey to the hilt, has become increasingly embarrassed by the seesaw contest.

Extra Police Protection Scheduled In Yule Rush

Extra police will be on duty on foot beats in the business district on nights when East Liverpool stores stay open during the Christmas shopping rush. Chief Americo Radeschi said today.

The extra police protection will be provided within the limits of available funds, the chief said. In the holiday rush, additional officers are needed to control traffic and to guard against the usual increase in crime, the chief said. Shoplifting and armed robberies are more likely to occur in the busy Christmas season, Radeschi explained.

U.S. Defense Chief Quits; Gates Picked

McElroy Resignation Expected; Will Take Effect Immediately

WASHINGTON (AP)—Neil H. McElroy resigned today as secretary of defense and President Eisenhower chose Thomas S. Gates Jr., now deputy secretary, to succeed him.

The resignation, long expected and effective immediately, was announced by the White House while McElroy was attending a meeting of the National Security Council with Eisenhower presiding.

At that session the President awarded the Medal of Freedom to McElroy for "outstanding service to his country and his dedication to his task."

The return of McElroy to private business by the end of the year has been expected for months. He plans to resume the presidency of Procter & Gamble of Cincinnati, Ohio.

In a letter to Eisenhower dated Nov. 27 McElroy said he was resigning for personal reasons of an urgent nature.

He plans to return to Procter & Gamble, Cincinnati, Ohio, soap manufacturing firm.

Eisenhower, in a "Dear Neil" letter, accepted McElroy's resignation with regret and expressed "deep appreciation of your distinguished service." McElroy served as defense chief for 26 months, starting in the fall of 1957.

Eisenhower gave Gates a recess appointment. A formal nomination will go to the Senate when Congress reconvenes in January. Gates, 53, has been deputy secretary of defense since last June. He took that job at Eisenhower's request after having resigned as secretary of the Navy to return to private business. He is a Philadelphia investment banker.

Gates was the Navy's civilian chief from 1957 until earlier this year. Prior to that he served as undersecretary of the Navy.

McElroy, now 55, has presided over the Pentagon longer than any other secretary of defense except Charles E. Wilson who served 4½ years. McElroy took over in the fall of 1957 as Wilson's successor. McElroy has been intending to step down earlier but his plans were revised because of the death May 8 of Deputy Secretary Donald A. Quarles who had been groomed to take his place.

Gates has been intending to quit as secretary of the Navy last July 1 but was persuaded to stay on in the deputy post.

In connection with that change McElroy said on May 19: "I have suspended my plans for departure. I don't know when I will be leaving if at all."

Later that day he made it slightly more specific by saying he would "certainly be here into December."

Since that time McElroy has pinned his continued stay in part to familiarizing Gates with the over-all administration of the department and in part to the preparation of the budget for presentation to Congress in January.

That latter task was cleaned up earlier this month in final conferences with Eisenhower at the President's vacation headquarters in Augusta, Ga.

Airliner With 25 Aboard Crashes In Pennsylvania

MONTOURSVILLE, Pa. (AP)—An Allegheny Airlines plane crashed into a mountain during a snowstorm today. There were 25 persons aboard.

Tom Schadt, a salesman, said he saw the aircraft approach the Williamsport - Montoursville airport, turn away for a new landing try, and head toward a nearby mountain.

"I heard the pilot gun his motors," Schadt said, "and a second or two later there was a gigantic crash."

Myron McGrath, manager of the local airport, said he understood there was at least one survivor.

An airlines spokesman in Washington said the plane had not been heard from since it made a faulty approach to the Williamsport-Montoursville airport and then turned away in a heavy snowstorm.

Fire Chief A. Edgar Eschenbach of Williamsport said he had received reports that the airliner crashed into a mountain side. He said the report received on his emergency radio gave no details.

A spokesman for Allegheny said the plane was en route from Philadelphia to Cleveland by way of Harrisburg, Williamsport, Bradford and Erie, Pa.

He said that the pilot last was heard from when he was cleared for landing at Williamsport at 9:41 a.m. EST.

Snow was falling at the time and visibility at Williamsport was low.

The spokesman said the pilot reported he was heading for a landing.

Moments later the plane broke through the storm into sight over the airfield but turned away. The airlines spokesman said the pilot apparently wanted to make a new and better approach.

The plane, he said, was not heard from again.

Those aboard included 22 passengers and a three-member crew, the airline said.

11 Of Hancock Taverns Lose Beer Licenses

Suspensions Handed 5 Others In State's Crackdown Nov. 2-3

Beer licenses of 11 Hancock County clubs and taverns were revoked and another 5 received suspensions in penalties announced today at Charleston by the West Virginia Beer Commission.

State Beer Commissioner R. D. Platt announced the revocations and suspensions for various liquor and gambling violations.

The state cracked down Nov. 2 and 3 when agents visited the various establishments. Hearings were held the week of Nov. 14.

Revolutions included: Virginia L. Copestick, Joy Land Bar, Newell; Jean G. I. L. S. Clover Club, Chester R. D. 1, Gladys Odom, Congo Bar, Chester R. D. 1; Glenn J. Doerr, Sunset Inn, State Route 2, Chester.

Arthur E. Lewis, Club Paddock, Chester R. D. 1; John A. Exarhos, Johnny's Place, New Cumberland R. D. 1; Richard L. Wright, the Little Club, New Cumberland R. D. 1; Frank Fuller, the Barn, New Cumberland R. D. 1; Timonlin P. Pinos, Skyline Restaurant, Chester R. D. 1; Tom Dallas, Tom's Tavern and Country, New Cumberland R. D. 1; Daniel Batalo, Capri, New Cumberland R. D. 1.

The suspensions, all effective Wednesday midnight, include: Joseph Cornell, 500 Bar, Chester, 30 days; Anthony Ludovici, Holiday Lounge, State Route 66, Chester, 60 days; R. A. Cook, Club 66, Chester, 30 days; Mike Olenzok, Mike's Place, Newell, 30 days, and Lester Kirschler, Les' Tavern, Chester, 30 days.

In addition, Platt announced two suspensions in Marshall County: Pauline D. Reed, Sandalwood Bar, McMechen, 40 days, and Frank Ovies, Ovies Recreation, Moundsville, 30 days.

Since that time McElroy has pinned his continued stay in part to familiarizing Gates with the over-all administration of the department and in part to the preparation of the budget for presentation to Congress in January.

U.S. Holiday Traffic Killed Total Of 445

By The Associated Press Traffic accidents during the four-day Thanksgiving holiday weekend claimed 445 lives — a smaller toll than could be expected in a non-holiday period of similar length, according to National Safety Council estimates.

The council made no prediction of the highway death toll for Thanksgiving weekend. It estimated that a 102-hour non-holiday period from Wednesday evening to Sunday midnight at this time of year would produce 470 traffic deaths.

Fires during the holiday weekend killed 70 persons and 135 died in miscellaneous accidents for an over-all toll of 650.

The toll was heavier in all categories over the holiday than it was in a similar non-holiday period surveyed by The Associated Press two weeks earlier. At that time 433 died in traffic, 49 in fires and 100 in miscellaneous accidents.

Red Appeal Reported To Capitalist Nations

ROME (AP)—The Italian Communist party disclosed today that representatives of Communist parties from 17 West European countries met in Rome 10 days ago and framed an "appeal to all workers and Democrats of the capitalist countries of Europe."

The statement appealed for the unity of leftist forces, including non-Communist Socialists, for the achievement of peace and the end of monopolies.

Peace Parley Resumed In Steel Dispute

Government Calls Negotiators Back To Bargaining Table

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government summoned steel negotiators back into bargaining sessions today in an effort to avoid a new steel strike in late January.

There seemed little evidence of optimism, however, for an early settlement of the protracted dispute.

Director Joseph F. Finnegan of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service arranged afternoon sessions with industry and union representatives.

The 80-day Taft-Hartley injunction, which stopped the strike last Nov. 7, will run out on Jan. 26. The 500,000 steelworkers then will be free to strike again if there is no settlement.

President Eisenhower is expected to lend a hand to the government mediators in his talk to the nation Thursday night.

Eisenhower reportedly will appeal again to both sides to agree on a peace pact that will avoid a new strike threat. The White House said he will appeal for more labor-management understanding and co-operation generally to make sure this nation maintains economic superiority over the Soviet Union.

The steel industry made a settlement offer 10 days ago but the proposal was turned down by the union. The industry estimated the plan as worth 30 cents an hour in wage-benefit gains over a three-year contract period. The union said it was worth only 24 cents. Workers presently are averaging about $3.11 per hour, including overtime and other premiums.

A dispute over company demands for more leeway in changing work rules to achieve operating economies also complicates the situation. The union has rejected any such changes.

Department Heads To Get $50 Monthly

Officials-Elect Also To Share In Boosts Starting With 1960

Councilmen decided early today to enact legislation Monday night granting $50-a-month increase to 11 city department heads and 5 per cent boosts to the remaining 140 rank-and-file workers, along with higher salaries agreed upon previously for 11 municipal officials-elect.

All the increases will take effect Jan. 1 when a new Democratic administration moves into City Hall, but the money to meet the cost will be carried over from 1959 revenue. The increases to the appointive workers will cost about $30,000 a year. The additional salaries of the elective officials total $5,500 annually.

When Council decided upon the pay increases it in effect tossed out the window finally a previous recommendation from its finance committee to pay $150 a year — end bonuses to the employees.

Council took the bonus proposal under advisement at its session Nov. 16. At a caucus Nov. 21, the members turned down the committee's recommendation.

Employe spokesmen protested to Council in another caucus last Friday night. At that time, Council indicated it might consider a general 5 per cent raise in lieu of a year-end bonus, scheduling a meeting last night to reach its final decision.

Last night's session did not get under way until 11 — delayed because several of the members were working the 3-11 shift at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. The session ran until about 12:20 this morning.

Councilman A. Stanley Kidder, chairman of the ordinance committee, said he hopes to present legislation at Council's session next Monday authorizing all the wage and salary increases.

It will be the first general boost for city employees since May 1, 1958, when a 10 per cent hike went into effect.

All seven voting members of Council indicated they favor the proposals, which means the legis-

Steel, Electronics Share Spotlight In Active Market

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels forced electronics to share the trading spotlight in a higher, active stock market early this afternoon.

U.S. Steel, the industry giant, paced the rally with a gain of better than 2, while Jones & Laughlin, Youngstown Sheet & Tube and Lukens were ahead in the same range. Other gains were from fractions to about a point.

Advances in electronics were trimmed a bit, although the recently spectacular group showed plus signs of nearly 3 in the case of Motorola and more than 1 for Raytheon.

American Motors continued actively traded and up around 2 1/2 in the wake of Monday's stock split and extra dividend. Other motors were mixed.

Trading in steel shares was backgrounded by the resumption of bargaining called for this afternoon by government mediators seeking to settle the long steel dispute. Brokers also were reported impressed by the sharp step-up in volume during Monday's good advance by the market as a whole.

Chemicals, airlines, rails, oils and rubber shares joined in the upswing.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon rose $1.40 to $225.40 with industrials up $2.70, rails up 10 cents and utilities up 40 cents. The overall average at noon was higher than the closing average on any day since Sept. 3.

Corporate and U.S. government bonds were narrowly mixed.

Hancock Group Gets Certificates

26 Qualify After First Aid Course

Twenty-six Hancock County school bus drivers and Chester volunteer firemen have qualified for certificates after passing a standard first aid course.

Alvin Arner Jr., of Chester, instructor for the training held in October, presented certificates at a meeting Monday night in the North Hancock County Red Cross Chapter's headquarters in the Aaron Building in Newell.

ell, and Carl Amodeo, 93 Railroad St., Chester, both bus drivers, Robert Pugh, 348 Carolina Ave., Chester, and Arner. Pugh is employed by Arner Funeral Homes.

Twenty-six attended the meeting when a film on new methods of mouth-to-mouth respiration was screened by Arner. Mrs. Ruth Sproule, chapter secretary, discussed the role of the Red Cross in the nation's welfare and outlined its table of organization.

Others who completed the

Street Maps About Ready

Grid maps for a street numbering program in St. Clair Township will be completed by Monday, William A. Black reported to the township trustees Monday night.

The trustees expect to arrange a joint meeting next Monday with Liverpool Township trustees and committees from the Calcutta and Glenmoor improvement groups to discuss the program.

Buck McPherson, township equipment mechanic, was authorized to purchase four truck tires after the trustees received a bid from Litten Motor Sales for $275.16 with a trade-in allowance of $81.76 for a net offer of $193.40.

Complaints of holes in Martha St., Lincoln St. and Kinsey Rd. were received.

The township's two police constables, Harry Skelton and John Jackson, submitted a report showing the apprehension of three men for the burglary at the Lawrence Brewer home. Two other breaking and enterings of township homes are under investigation, they reported.

VFW District To Conduct Conference At Wellsville

The annual 6th District mid-winter conference of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will be held Saturday and Sunday at Wellsville.

The conference is being sponsored jointly by Tommy Mackall Post 5647 and Post 9285.

The schedule calls for registration noon Saturday at both posts. A cocktail party will be held at 6:15 p. m. at Post 9285.

A banquet will be held at 7 p. m. at Post 9285 in honor of Fr. Warren Braun of Leetonia, state chaplain. Principal speaker will be Don Maupin of Moundsville, chairman of the national Americanism committee.

The township's two police constables, Harry Skelton and John Jackson, submitted a report showing the apprehension of three men for the burglary at the Lawrence Brewer home. Two other breaking and enterings of township homes are under investigation, they reported.

Staff meetings will follow at 9 p. m. at Post 5647. The district dance will be held at 10 p. m. at the post.

Sunday's registration will be at 9 a. m. at both posts. Staff meetings will begin at 10 a. m. The men will meet at 9285 and auxiliary members will meet at 5647.

A luncheon will be served at noon at Post 9285. Conference staff

Fireside Games Stage Comeback

AP Newsfeatures
Family fun is in style again. Maybe it's the effect of television.

Maybe it's just the swing of the pendulum. Whatever the reason, the Gay Nineties custom of parlor games is back again full force.

The new game crop for this Christmas is long on games intended for the whole family rather than just the children. Competitive interest is scaled to fit the abilities and interests of both parents and small fry.

Some are based on popular television show formats. And the popularity of the game endures even after the TV show is off the air.

After all, nobody is going to accuse a family game of "rigging" a quiz game.

One new game, a top hit throughout the country, is based on concentration and memory. It's a streamlined new version of rebus puzzle solving, a favorite family game in great-grandmother's day. An ingenious rollomatic puzzle changer, providing 30 feet of rebus wit challenges gives up-to-the-minute touch. Players compete for fabulous make-believe prizes such as mink coats, diamonds and cars, represented by pictures.

Other currently popular games are based on Wild West adventures, often tied in with a television show cast. Some of these Western thrillers include Restless Gun, Wells Fargo, The Rifleman, Cheyenne and Sergeant Preston.

Still another revival of family games of long ago is the current popularity of mazes. The object is to roll a small ball from one side, in and out of an intricate maze, to the other side of a clear plastic box.

Last year advertisers spent approximately $4 in national newspaper advertising for each person in the U. S. to acquaint them with their products.

No Security Anywhere

In the hustle-bustle nature of President Eisenhower's good will tour, he will have no time to hear all the tales of woe that would bear telling.

When he visits Spain, for example, there will be an exchange of pleasantries. No one will mention Franco's perfidy in World War II, nor the fact he is presiding over the unhappiest poorhouse in Europe.

In Morocco, it will not be tactful to talk about those multi-million-dollar U.S. bases that a government drifting toward neutralism has forced this government to write off as a loss.

Anti-Americanism in Iran will be glossed over. In India, there will be no aspersions cast on the foolish attitude of Prime Minister Nehru and his protegee, Krishna Menon, toward the Red Chinese now threatening Indian security.

The economic troubles of Pakistan will not be aired, nor the chronic inflation that plagues Turkey. There will be no discussion in Italy of that country's handicap — the largest Communist party in Western Europe.

Afghanistan will not be chided for drifting toward the Soviet Union. Nor will the heavy Soviet pressure on Greece be spoken of; the Greeks will assure President Eisenhower and his party that they are not afraid of pressure.

They never have been afraid in the past, nor have the Turks. Perhaps it can be said of France under President De Gaulle that it, too, is showing no fear. And this, in spite of the hustle-bustle, might be the most important thing President Eisenhower learns during the trip.

HERE AT HOME, depending on bits and pieces of information predigested for him by his staff, the President must have the impression that many Americans have, of a world living in abject fear of tomorrow and weathering out today in the frame of mind of a man who has been told he has only a short time to live.

This is not the impression that knowledgeable travelers have when they visit foreign countries and talk to the people, instead of their leaders.

Political leaders since World War II all have one aim in mind when they are talking to official representatives of the United States. They want to get as much as they can of this country's anti-Communist largesse, on the best possible terms.

They are under powerful constraint to put their worst foot forward, to prove their need is acute.

Moreover, they have been urged to do this by spokesmen for the United States who are as hell-bent on giving away money as its beneficiaries are bent on getting it.

The world has been turned into a ward for national hypochondriacs alternately trying to prove to the United States and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics that the end is near unless succor is forthcoming in large quantities.

IT IS A REASONABLE guess that this way of doing things must have raised as many eyebrows and questions in the Presidium as it has raised in the U.S. Congress. The Presidium, after all, has unwieldy China on its list of wards that perpetually and perennially need help. Congress has no patients of that girth and grasp.

President Eisenhower is too well schooled in the realities of human existence to expect personal security. He has faced the fact of his own insecurity fearlessly, yet it has not turned him into a hypochondriac.

It would be a momentous realization, if it came to him on his trip, that the countries he had seen all have their problems, just as the United States has its problems, but their problems are for the most part no more than is the normal lot of men.

There eventually must come a time when the world will cease to exist in a state of emergency and "brinkmanship," unless life, itself, is to be thought of as an endless state of emergency.

Built-In Opportunity For Reds

The great numbers of Chinese who managed to escape the grip of communism by fleeing to other lands in Southeast Asia may not be so fortunate in the long run as they have appeared to be up to now.

More and more the governments of their adopted countries are turning on them in resentment against their prosperity, wrought by their determination and industriousness. Indonesia and the Philippines are the latest nations to take discriminatory action against the minority Chinese.

The result is not only the personal humiliation of being pariahs. The expatriates appear destined also to become pawns in the international struggle with the communism they sought to avoid.

BOTH THE Red regime of the Communist mainland and the Nationalist government of Formosa have stakes in the struggle, for they want to command the loyalty of the expatriates.

But Peiping has considerably more at stake and can be expected to handle the situation with more ruthless cunning. For one thing, Red China enjoys the rich source of foreign exchange provided by the monthly financial aid nearly all the Chinese abroad send to their relatives at home.

Thus, Red China's reaction to Indonesia's ban on trading by aliens in rural areas was to threaten to cut off "friendly" relations. The Jakarta government replied with a charge that Peiping was trying to sabotage its domestic policies.

This single instance gives a glimpse of the opportunity Red China might see in the expatriate situation. The discontent of minorities is a favorite breeding ground for Communist strategy.

Properly nourished, the conflict between the alien Chinese and their native neighbors could well become a built-in mechanism for Red control or overthrow of a number of small, insecure Southeast Asian governments.

EVEN IF Peiping were not interested in going that far, it could use the unhappy situation to keep the international waters stirred up to hide its own domestic problems, as it has done in the Indian border dispute.

Turmoil is the best friend the Communists have ever had. They create it when necessary and can be depended upon to grab any opportunity for perpetuating it when it turns up without their help.

The Asian politicians so quick to accuse the Chinese aliens of upsetting their apple-carts would do well to consider the fact they may be doing a better job of that themselves.

Welcome Change

Wheeling's troubles with prostitution, open gambling and other vice serve to re-emphasize the welcome change that has taken place here during the last few years.

While our previous problems on the whole were little ones in comparison with those of Wheeling, we did experience one splitting headache that catapulted us into the national spotlight. The resulting publicity was inevitable and necessary — but far from enjoyable. It gave us a black eye which took some time to heal.

Wheeling and the others are welcome to the blaring headlines which go with a "wide-open" operation. More desirable is the dignified recognition that results from a properly managed city.

The Once Over

There's a lift in the discovery that some of the frightful nonmelodic hit tunes poured into the home over the airwaves do not reflect normal public taste but are plugged by emcees and singers tied into recording business.

Millions have been wondering how ear-splitting tunes and senseless lyrics were put across. Top songs obviously written by tone-deaf composers who must have obtained musical training under a damp plank have been built into "popular" numbers by links between jockeys, airwave stations and music industry.

Recordings of a squeaky barn door, a dry axle or sounds from the slaughterhouse, if telecast often enough, can grip a lot of folks, even if the tunes drive dogs under the bed.

Airwaves are full of songs which, without forced plugging over the air, couldn't hold the attention of a person in search of a sure-fire method for cracking wall plaster and shattering windowpanes.

Question no longer is: "Gotta good song?" but "Got a good agent and a link with disc jockey?" Any kindergarten kid could turn out better songs using a voodoo drum, a ruined saxophone and a set of rules on harmony written by a tobacco auctioneer.

WE HAVE HEARD better music produced by a sack of rocks hurled through a window in a bowling alley. Many of today's songs could be orchestrated by hog callers.

The payola also explains some of those recent jungle-like characters suddenly blossoming as sensational crooners through big sale of recordings. Until recently the kid singers had to be fairly attractive but TV is now featuring kids who look like teen-age Draculas. Even tender love lyrics come out like a scream from park mycines.

Music is music but should it so often seem

Yet Britain's "Old Man" no doubt enjoyed it. For, as the saying goes, it is not the gift that counts but the thought behind it.

And Winnie's "global" cake was a reminder that people all over the world still think about him with the special affection reserved for beloved leaders.

Although the state of Alaska is about 400 times larger than the state of Rhode Island, it contains only about one-tenth as many people.

A Merry Type Of Picketing

Reds Have Not Stopped Interfering

By Victor Riesel

All too soon when guns sputter and stutter and riddle Americans into slaves; when rocks crack the skulls of our envoys; when our embassies and reading rooms are burned — in the Caribbean and in Latin America — there will be in the midst of this holocaust special agents trained in a building at Satalin - ter 17, Budapest, 6, Hungary.

Victor Riesel

There they are trained for riot work in Spanish-speaking America. There they are trained to infiltrate and capture Latin-American labor movements — including the Cuban. They are the living evidence that the Soviet Communist party's Central Committee has not stopped interfering in the affairs of nations friendly to or near the United States.

They were in the Palacio de Los Trabajadores, Penabaz and San Carlos, Havana, strategically seated among the 2,938 delegates to the 10th national convention of the Cuban Confederation of Workers.

THESE AGENTS, operatives of the Soviet labor arm known as the World Federation of Trade Unions (WFTU), were far more successful in Cuba than our public knows. And because of that first success, our public may yet find our young soldiers fighting in Cuba as they did in Korea.

The Soviet operatives' first success was the passage of a resolution creating a "workers' militia." This was predicted in this column recently.

No matter what you hear about the so-called defeat of the Communists, the militia is their victory, because the workers' army will be run by "Fidelistas" — and that means by Soviet controlled military cadres. Castro has promised to equip and train the union army as soon as he can.

They will then be dispatched into the field to speed agrarian reform. This will mean action against American technicians and even men at our naval base there. Just watch. The incidents will develop. We will then have to protect ourselves.

There were other victories, such as the withdrawal of Cuban labor from the anti-Communist International Confederation of Free Trade Unions, whose high command meets in Brussels shortly.

This disaffiliation is part of the plan. It is too early, however, for the Communists to the Cuban labor up with the WFTU officially.

THAT WILL come next year, just you watch. This is the same strategy the Communists are using in African unions wherever they have enough influence.

First, they move for disaffiliation from the anti-Communist global federation. Then they set up a neutral federation. Next they will move it into the Communist WFTU. Then they will be the backbone of a movement to seize American property.

This is the tactic being used in Guinea now led by Sekou Toure. He is both president of that land and head of the now neutral labor federation of "black Africa."

This is exactly what began to happen at the Havana labor convention the other day. The Communist agents fought for a place on the Cuban Federation's executive board — but not too hard.

They were content with just putting over the maneuvers I've described. Next year they'll take most of the high command.

The Soviet agents in the Cuban labor convention took their orders from a vain, egocentric 65-year-old veteran, none other than Comrade Vincente Lombardo Toledano.

He came to the sessions from his headquarters at Plaza de la Republica 6, Mexico City. He spoke. He met with the agents. His liaison was the Moscow and Budapest trained Cuban, Lazaro Pena.

There were others working for Toledano, who is one of the five worldwide vice presidents of the WFTU.

These others were trained in a special labor school he ran in Costa Rica. This was in May 1958. The money for the school came from the WFTU.

Toledano selected 30 students from all over Latin America. Some of them were in the anti-Nixon riots. Some were in the Panamanian riots later.

The others dispersed after being trained for just such an operation as the Cuban maneuver. Three were arrested by the Nicaraguan government.

The others are at large. You will know their work when it splashes across the front pages. So don't be surprised. This is the spirit of Camp Kremlin.

Not A Dog Show

By Truman Twill

They're sending around poll sheets for me to mark my choice for man of the year, woman of the year, child of the year, dog of the year, story of the year etc. This time, I pass.

If I can strike no stronger blow for honesty than this, I can do this much. And having done it, I can sleep better.

Whatever small part I played in the past in this insane racket can be forgiven, I trust. It is inconceivable that my hit-or-miss voting had any effect on the final outcome, even assuming my vote was counted.

The racket is so insane that the same result could be accomplished by putting names in a hat and having them drawn out by a two-year-old.

It is kept going only by an illusion that humans cherish—a world in which everything can be classified, pigeonholed and certified, like entrants in a dog show.

Thus, there can be a grand champion, a winner's bitch, a best of breed and so on. One must be designated as the best writer. Another can be given the Henry B. Fiddlebottom Award for composing the best ditty purporting to imitate the sound of squirrels trapped in an automatic washing machine.

So and so can be the most beautiful, the best dressed, the most popular, the most likely to succeed; that's the old gagala, which is guttural for old payola—and the similarity is not accidental. They go together.

The all-American football player bears a higher price tag than a lumpy whose name never was mentioned. That's why the boys are seniors before they are designated, because otherwise their amateur standing might be jeopardized dangerously by greed. They would demand a raise in pay.

What needs to be knocked in the head before it grows up to be completely idiotic is the Big Award — the distinction of being the one and only, the big cheese.

This I am giving up permanently as a form of wishful thinking. I do not believe there can be such a thing as the absolute best of anything—movies, dogs, horses, writers, plays, automobiles, custard pies, television shows, football players or telephone pad doodles.

The world is not made that way. But there is a way the world is made that must be considered when people are tempted by the possibility of playing jokes. It's made baronous, felonious and conscienceless.

Sooner or later, the polls reveal this.

The jokers rig it so a cow gets elected to be May Queen. They rig it so a couple dozen football players out of thousands get to be all-Americans and read their names in the papers and on contracts.

They rig it so the kudos fall on the places where they will be most appreciated. Not that all polls are doctored but all polls are susceptible to doctoring and therefore had better be scuttled.

Which is what I intend to do as 1959 draws to an end.

I've had it, where polls are concerned. I pass.

How much do you know—except for Adlai E. Stevenson and Vice President Richard M. Nixon—about the men now being mentioned as presidential possibilities?

The answer is probably not much. Right now, in this pre-campaign period, most of the would-be candidates are simply running around, trying to create a favorable impression, hoping they can win enough support to make a real go of it in 1960.

They are not saying anything very profound. They're like men thrusting a thermometer into the political pool here and there to see if the water is warm.

For this reason it's hard to understand what voters base their preferences on at this moment in the race when they choose one candidate above another in public opinion polls.

An exception has to be made for Stevenson and Nixon. Since both men campaigned in the 1952 and 1956 election contests, their views and personalities can be assumed to be pretty well known.

But how many voters at this stage know anything in detail about some of the other men mentioned as likely prospects for the presidency next year? Senators Kennedy, Humphrey, Symington, Johnson or New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller?

In the three years since the last campaign these men have taken positions on a lot of bills and issues. Unless you had a voting record in front of you, it would be hard to tell who did which.

Stevenson, a two-time loser, has said several times he will not seek the Democratic nomination again. But saying he won't seek the nomination is a lot different from saying he would not accept it. So far Stevenson has not said he would refuse.

Nixon is the one who has been taking it cool, and can afford to. He has spent the years since the 1952 election lining up the Republican professionals for the try at the presidency next year.

He will probably continue to play it cool unless the only man now in sight who looks like a rival, Rockefeller, begins to look like a real contender.

Pros And Cons Of TV

By David Lawrence

Industry Needs Better Shows, Not Laws

What started out as an exposure of deception—mistakenly conceived by the producers of shows as a way to put on a more exciting performance—has developed now into a nationwide discussion of the merit, or demerits of television itself.

There are always misguided individuals who hurt any good cause by David Lawrence acts of dishonesty. Hence the exposures have already alerted the television broadcasting companies and producers of shows that this kind of thing must not happen again.

There really isn't any need for more law or regulation to handle that problem. Regaining the confidence of the public is not something even a new law could by itself accomplish for the television companies.

But what of television's other problems—especially the dissatisfaction with some of the shows that aren't in the quiz line? What shall be done about some of the misleading advertisements that occasionally accompany them?

Existing laws can take care of the misrepresentation of products offered for sale. That's what the federal trade commission was set up to do a few decades ago.

While many people do not know much about its achievements, the commission can quite effectively, by the use of "cease and desist" orders, protect the buying public against fraud in advertising.

AS FOR THE KIND of shows given on the air, this is really at the root of much of the dissatisfaction with television.

Lots of the criticism is unfair and ill-informed. For one thing any medium with as big an audience as TV gets cannot even in a decade of time solve all its problems and, of course, any suggestion that the government should begin to censor television shows or tell the stations what kind of programs they should offer is contrary to the spirit and the letter of the constitutional provision governing free speech.

To simplify the issue—the government has no more right to tell the stage manager of a television show how to work up or ignore dramatic interests than it has to send FBI agents behind the wings of a theater to find out whether the drink that looks like wine to the audience is after all only a soft drink.

What a tragedy it would be to interfere with the art of make believe in the circus side shows!

The discussion now going on about television is healthy. It will help in the long run. For the amount of constructive criticism poured forth in the last few weeks could not possibly have been induced in many years in the normal course of events.

The latest bit of self-examination in the broadcasting business has been sparked by Sigmund Larmson, chairman of the board of a big advertising agency in New York.

He has suggested that a commission of outstanding citizens be appointed by all the broadcasting companies to make a study of the whole problem of programs and the proper relationship of producers and advertisers to the networks. This would be an advisory commission.

Dr. Frank Stanton, president of the Columbia Broadcasting System, says the objective is all right but he fears it will give the impression that the broadcasting companies may be passing the buck to others.

Robert W. Sarnoff, chairman of the National Broadcasting Company, likes the idea in principle and thinks such a study would be helpful but suggests certain definitions of the area to be explored.

ON THE WHOLE, the move is bound to be useful in stimulating the process of self-examination by all the parties concerned.

Even granting that a public commission would render some good advice on methods of detecting frauds and on other reforms, especially in programming, this would not in any way reduce the responsibilities of the networks, the producers of programs and the advertisers, respectively.

The head of CBS puts his finger on one basic phase of the problem when he says:

"Broadcasting is supported by advertisers, many of whom feel they must have huge mass audiences. This has led many people to feel that the networks have, in effect, abdicated to advertising sponsors their duty to control what is put on our television screens."

"The result, many feel, is a catering to the lowest common denominator of public taste to meet the demands of advertisers—including too many westerns, too much violence. This is in spite of the fact that our program schedules include great drama, great comedy, great music, panel discussions of great issues and speedy and thorough presentation of news."

"This is a matter of program balance which, again, we accept as primarily our responsibility."

How big an audience does the advertiser believe he must have in order to sell his products? It's his money that is at risk.

How can any medium be all things to all people? Why is it that a playwright who has a big "hit" on Broadway falls sometimes on his next try and that the author of a best seller doesn't always click on the next book he writes?

These are the questions that no commission of public citizens and no head of any medium of expression can ever solve except by trial and error. There is nothing wrong with television that a few better shows wouldn't cure.

Do You Know The Candidates?

WASHINGTON—How much do you know—except for Adlai E. Stevenson and Vice President Richard M. Nixon—about the men now being mentioned as presidential possibilities?

Wildlife Erased

Africa's magnificent wildlife, the most varied array of animals ever to walk the earth, is rapidly disappearing.

African poachers use fire, poisoned arrows and wire snares to take a heavy toll of the dwindling game herds. Tribesmen's vast flocks of cattle, sheep and goats drive wild creatures away from waterholes and choice grazing areas.

About 90 per cent of Africa's original wildlife population has been exterminated by man's activities. The surviving animals are making a last stand in the national parks and reserves, where effective protection is often lacking.

Less than 50 years ago, wild animals of many species blackened the plains of East Africa in countless millions. Primitive man, sparse in numbers, was merely another predator in nature's scheme.

The advent of colonial rule upset the balance. European settlers wiped out the game in large areas. The African population skyrocketed as war, famine, disease and the slave trade were eliminated. Cattle epidemics were stamped out.

In dry East Africa, men and livestock have not multiplied beyond the point at which the land can support them.

Recordings Used For Real Sound

Experts Dubbed In Noise On Ike Trip, Networks Say

NEW YORK (AP)—Two networks say their technicians in New York dubbed in some of the crowd noises heard in television coverage of President Eisenhower's recent trip to Europe.

The American Broadcasting Co. and the Columbia Broadcasting System acknowledged Monday night that in a few instances recorded crowd noises were used where the real sounds were either lacking or failed to fit in with other film.

The National Broadcasting Co. said it used only the sound which actually accompanied the President during his travels.

An ABC spokesman explained "When Eisenhower was traveling into Bonn (West Germany) from the airport by car, we had only a man with a hand-held camera riding in a truck to cover him, where before we had natural sounds of the crowd. You obviously can't suddenly go into dead silence. So you use a little crowd noise or perhaps a little music."

Movie newsreels have long used recorded sound to accompany films when the natural sound was inappropriate.

Sig Mickelson, president of the CBS news division, issued a memorandum on prerecorded sound effects in news programs.

"In general the use of prerecorded sound effects should be avoided," he said. "Where, however, it is impractical to record the natural sound, and such sound is purely incidental, having no bearing on the editorial content of a program, prerecorded sound effects may be used."

CBS President Frank Stanton issued a warning to employees that anyone guilty of bribery or payola would be fired. Payola is the practice whereby record companies pay disc jockeys to plug records that might not otherwise catch the public fancy.

NBC announced the appointment of James A. Stabile, a lawyer, as vice president in charge of standards and practices.

Robert W. Lishman, chief counsel of the House Legislative Oversight subcommittee, was expected here from Washington today presumably to check on the progress of the payola investigation.

and weakened the dictatorship of the proletariat." Khrushchev's reference was to former Hungarian Communist leader Matyos Rakosi.

The Soviet premier said the proposed East-West summit conference must be approached "in a reasonable way, taking account of the wishes of the other parties."

In this connection, Khrushchev continued, French President Charles de Gaulle's desire to meet with him prior to the summit meeting was not unreasonable and "perhaps this will make for better understanding at the summit."

The Soviet leader denied "foreign press fabrications" that the Soviet Union has abandoned the idea of an early summit meeting. Khrushchev's visit to De Gaulle is scheduled for the last two weeks in March, which postpones the East-West summit at least until late April.

Khrushchev said the most important and most acute question of the time is that of the relaxation of a stable and durable peace.

A certain relaxation of international tension has been brought about, he continued, by the Soviet proposal for total disarmament, Khrushchev's visit to the United States and his meetings with President Eisenhower.

Khrushchev warned that the Soviet desire for peace is not a sign of weakness. He called once more for an end to the Western occupation of West Berlin and a German peace treaty.

Palestine Chief's Car Is Damaged In Blaze

EAST PALESTINE — Some $100 damage resulted to the car of Fire Chief Glenn Libert which caught fire while he was en route to Youngstown Monday about 6:30 p. m. The right rear brake apparently overheated, setting the wheel afire. The chief called the Boardman fire department but extinguished the blaze himself before firemen arrived.

Libert said he halted a passing bus and borrowed a fire extinguisher. Libert and three friends accompanying him were returned home by the Mahoning County sheriff's department.

Getting About $12,500

2 Ohio Lawyers Receiving Sen. Young's Top Salaries

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Ohio lawyers are receiving Sen. Stephen M. Young's (D-Ohio) top annual salaries—about $12,500. A third Ohio attorney gets about $6,000 from Young's payroll.

The lawyers on Young's payroll and their salaries are:

John C. Fontana of Columbus, $12,625; Harvey J. Johnson of Cleveland, $12,494, and Harold S. Stern, also of Cleveland, $5,968.

The figures were disclosed Monday when Young's payroll, along with those of all other senators, was made public.

Young told a reporter his attorney aides are extremely important to him. They perform such services, he said, as checking on immigration matters, social security cases and service academy appointments.

Young said Fontana was an Ohio assistant attorney general in 1937. Among other things, Young said, Fontana performs liaison with Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, and some members of the Ohio cabinet on such matters as roads. He is listed as Young's executive assistant with the highest salary on the payroll.

All salaries were listed on a quarterly basis, with Fontana's at $3,156 for the three months ended Sept. 30. To determine the annual pay, a reporter multiplied the quarterly amount by four.

Johnson, the second lawyer on Young's payroll, was described by the senator as a leading Negro Democratic attorney in Ohio, and is listed as a legislative consultant. Recently Johnson has been helping some people line up Christmas jobs at the Cleveland post office.

Snow Delays Area Traffic; Buses Skid

Traffic between East Liverpool and Midland on Route 68 was slowed by the fresh snow this morning. Midland and Ohio Township police reported.

It took well over an hour for motorists to get to either Midland or East Liverpool because of the tie-ups.

Ohio Township police reported an ash truck arrived about 8 a. m. and traffic tieups began clearing about 9. Some dozen cars were reported stalled on Route 168 between Midland and the Salem Church Rd.

Midland police reported streets slippery and said that street crews were out all night chiseling. The Carnegie and Rochester barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police reported traffic moving slow and roads slippery and "treacherous." Crews of the State Highway Garage at Rochester worked during the night and this morning.

Snow-slicked side roads delayed some buses of the Beaver Local School District and at least one slid into a ditch on the Riding Academy Rd. near Hoppel's Corners, school officials said.

None of the pupils aboard was injured and the bus was not damaged, they added. Several buses were running 20 to 25 minutes late. Some pupils in the Calcutta area were not picked up, however, until another bus had been dispatched from the Calcutta School to take several youngsters to the elementary school near Williamsport.

School officials said some of the buses didn't attempt to travel back roads and many of the pupils walked to the main highways to meet the buses.

Despite the snow, the State Highway Patrol said it had no report of any accidents. The main highways, which the patrol said were wet and slushy, were ashed. Many secondary roads remain snow-covered and slippery, the patrol added.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol said the main roads were slippery early this morning but were clearing by mid-morning. All secondary roads were reported slippery and hazardous.

Street department crews spread ashes and salt this morning on grades and at intersections, Supt. W. M. Laughlin said. Downtown streets were clear at mid-morning and rising temperatures made slush of new-fallen snow in the suburbs.

Highways Of County Reported As Slippery

LISBON—County highways were slippery in spots and were ashed and plowed where necessary this morning, according to John Neill Jr., county superintendent.

Snow on some of the county highways melted Monday and then froze last night and new snow covered the ice, making some spots very hazardous, Neill said.

Pedestrian Hit In City Mishap

An elderly pedestrian was injured today when struck by an auto as he walked across Broadway to the Post Office and a motorist was hurt late Monday afternoon in a two-car mishap in East End.

William F. Steffen, 79, of 234 W. 4th St. suffered a possible arm injury in the mishap at 7:35 this morning at Broadway and E. 5th St. He was taken to City Hospital. Police said they were not notified of the mishap.

A collision at Harvey Ave. and Myrtle St. at 4:33 p. m. yesterday injured Harry William Lamire, 24, of 689 Lincoln Ave., police said. He went to City Hospital at 11:40 p. m. for X-rays of the back and police said he complained of injuries to the neck and the back. He said he did not realize until later that he was injured, officers said.

Lamire told police his 1956 auto was halted for a traffic light when it was hit from the rear by another vehicle, throwing him against the steering wheel. Police had no data on the second auto except that an employee of an East End auto agency would report the facts to the department.

Slippery streets were blamed for a collision at W. 8th and Lisbon Sts. at 6:27 a. m. today. The crash involved a 1952 auto driven by Delmar Smith, 46, of LeCroft and a 1955 auto operated by Kathie Kellmayer, 782 Woodlawn Ave., officers said.

Smith told police his auto was struck on the left front when he pulled onto W. 8th St. after halting for a traffic light. He said neither he nor the woman driver was able to stop in time to avoid the crash.

Drivers Are Unhurt In Hancock Collision

Neither driver was injured in a collision Monday night at 9:30 on Hardins Run Rd., near New Cumberland, Hancock County sheriff's deputies reported today.

They said an auto driven by Volma Church, 17, skidded on ice and rammed the car of Frederick D. Jones, 23, both of New Cumberland, R. D.

Total damage was estimated at $600, deputies said.

It is estimated that steadily higher marriage and birth rates will create 30 million new consumers by 1970. And daily newspaper circulation has been keeping pace. It has nearly quadrupled in the last 50 years.

Whole Family Now Gets In Christmas Party Act

VIVIAN BROWN

AP Newsfeatures Writer

Family parties are the rage again. Bigger families created the trend, for how else can you entertain in a tiny house? Shut the youngsters up in a room? Perish the thought. Small fry will surely become mischievous and a nuisance, and why shouldn't they rebel? It is their home, too.

The easiest way to have fun during the holidays and see your friends too, is to invite them and their children. Maybe the house will take a beating, but that's to be expected.

The open house idea for holidays, popular generations ago, is a wonderful and inexpensive way to entertain. You can serve simple fare, exhibit your choice silver, decorative china and glassware.

One family uses the two-table buffet technique, one table for small fry, one for adults. If you'd like to experiment with it, keep everything on the tables pretty much the same. The cloths could be bright green or red felt or linen. The punch bowls could be the same. Hand crafted punch bowls look traditional, even though contemporary. Children could have a punch of fruit juice or a creamy milk shake. Parents can take their traditional egg nog with cognac, and the children will not be the wiser.

The menu on that day should be simple—small sandwiches, cakes, cheese, crackers. After all it's the get-together that counts, and if done between meal times, it will be fun no matter what is served.

The children's table could have small bowls of Santa-faced lollipops, candy canes, balloons to keep their interest alive. The eldest child in the household could be appointed host or hostess at the table, a good way to teach them the ways of gracious entertaining.

A gay grab bag filled with tiny inexpensive gifts that will keep the youngsters busy for a while can start the party off right—all the children might disappear with coloring books, things to build or push, and let the parents have fun. It's a good plan, and sometimes it works. A small record player in the children's area can hold their attention for a brief period.

If you have a large circle of friends, this party can be duplicated throughout the holidays. Once you have the essential decorations and table settings organized, there is nothing more to do but supply food and clean the house when the party is over, a much easier way to entertain than at a sit-down meal.

A great many clever hostesses do all their entertaining during one period. Once you have invested in a big cleaning chore, fresh flowers,

FUEL LINE FREEZE-UP CAN STOP YOU

NEW BORON® WITH ICE-GARD®* STOPS FUEL LINE FREEZE-UP BEFORE IT STOPS YOU

Fuel Line Freeze-up could happen to you! And if it does, you're stopped cold! You're stuck until the tow truck comes! A SOHIO EXCLUSIVE! Now new Boron with Ice-gard ice-proofs your fuel line automatically! No other gasoline sold in Ohio gives you this complete protection! No need for special canned anti-icers! And no extra cost!

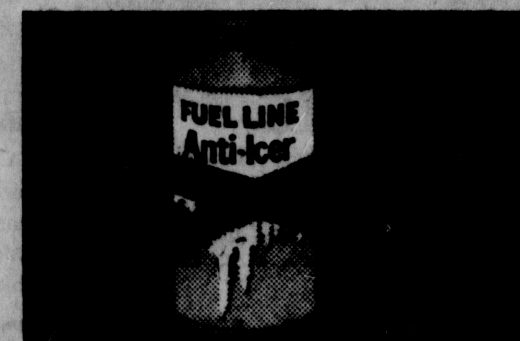

HERE'S THE BIG DIFFERENCE! Other gasolines are now offering protection against a different driving problem—carburetor icing. For several years, Sohio gasolines have protected against this problem. But Boron with Ice-gard is the only gasoline in Ohio that protects against both carburetor icing and the real winter problem—fuel line freeze-up!

*A SOHIO TRADE-MARK © SOHIO 1959

Now Boron with Ice-gard stops fuel line freeze-up! In winter, water condensed from air in your gas tank can settle in low points in your fuel line and freeze solid. Fuel can't flow through. But Boron with Ice-gard lowers the freezing point of water. Ice can't form. Fuel flows freely.

No need for canned anti-icers! No extra cost! New Boron with Ice-gard ice-proofs your fuel line automatically with every tankful. You don't need special canned anti-icers whatever the weather. Protection is already "built-in," so you always have it when you need it. And you get it at no extra cost!

Proved by "ice cube car" test! To prove the effectiveness of Boron with Ice-gard, Sohio froze a car in a solid cube of ice. If the fuel line were to freeze, it would have done so under these conditions. But the car started and kept on running because it had new Boron with Ice-gard!

Councilmen Agree On Hike

lation can be enacted at a single session under suspension of the rules.

In its discussion of the 5 per cent raises last Friday, Council indicated it would word the legislation so that the higher rates would run only a year — until Dec. 31, 1960 — in order that the incoming administration could decide whether the rates would continue into its second year.

However, in the discussion last night, Council decided not to put a "cut-off date" in the ordinance, which means the higher rates will be in effect unless the new Council takes some positive action to repeal them.

Council also decided that department heads will not collect the 5 per cent raise on top of their $50-a-month hikes. As most of the department heads average about $400 monthly, the $50 raise plus a 5 per cent boost would have made their total increase about $70 a month.

Here are the department heads affected, their present rates and their new scales: Police Chief Americo Radeschi, $400 and $450; Fire Chief Charles Bryan, $400 and $450; Street Supt. W. M. Laughlin, $390 and $440; Incinerator Supt. James A. McKinnon, $370 and $420; Sewage Plant Supt. Charles Huddleston, $400 and $450; Electrician Fred Kane, $386 and $436.

Parking Meter Repairman Robert Kelly, $338 and $388; Park Supt. William Bell, $250 and $300; Water Supt. Frank K. Robinson, $462 and $512; Harold Peterson, water department distribution superintendent, $429 and $479, and Donald Duke, water department assistant superintendent and chemist, $434 and $484.

Bell's name was added to the list of department heads scheduled for raises at the request of the Board of Thompson Park Commissioners. The water department heads included in the raise list were given to Council last night by the Board of Public Utilities, which administers the department.

The 5 per cent hike will mean approximately $16.90 more a month for police and firemen. The present rate is $338 and the new rate will be about $354.

The increase means 8 cents more an hour for truck drivers and laborers, who comprise the bulk of the force in the incinerator and street departments. Truck drivers, now earning $1.65 hourly, will draw about $1.73 and laborers, whose rate now is $1.60, will earn $1.68.

The 5 per cent hike will mean $10 to $15 more a month for most others on the city payroll, including clerical personnel, as the present scales now generally range from $200 to $300 a month.

In its action last night, Council also made two minor changes in the pay raises agreed upon previously for officials-elect.

Mayor-elect Bert H. Goodballet will draw $5,200 a year, up $2,800 from the present $2,400, and City Treasurer Bert A. Dawson — the only Republican re-elected in a Democratic sweep — will be paid $1,300, a $300 increase from the present $1,000.

In its first report, the finance committee made no definite recommendation for the mayor's boost, but some members proposed a new salary of $6,600. In its caucus Nov. 21, Council decided upon a $5,000 salary for the new mayor. However, the decision last night was to set the rate at $5,200, which figures out to an even $100 weekly.

In the finance committee's first report, it recommended a $1,500 salary for Dawson, but at the caucus Nov. 21 the figure was cut back to $1,200. Last night's action pushed it up another $100 to $1,300.

There was no change last night in the previously recommended rates for the councilmen and their presiding officer who will take office Jan. 1. Council's pay will be boosted from $50 to $75 monthly and the president's salary will be hiked from $51 to $100.

All seven members attended last night's session, along with President B. E. Warner. In the discussion of water works pay rates, the board met with W. O. Schneider, chairman, and Robert P. Guyton of the Board of Public Utilities, along with Robinson and Duke.

Smiths Have Landed

BIRMINGHAM (U) — Pretty soon the Marines will be saying the Smiths have landed. Sgt. Charles F. Smith in the recruiting office here signed up three of them in two days — Richard C. Smith, Richard H. Smith, and Charles E. Smith.

In The Nick Of Time

TULSA, Okla. (U) — Refrigerator repairman Norman Gibson went to the home of Mrs. Gaynell Durham on a routine call and was credited with saving the life of Mrs. Durham's 7-week-old baby. Mrs. Durham said the infant girl quit breathing. Gibson gave her mouth-to-mouth artificial respiration and restored her breath.

Long Way Up

ST. LOUIS (U) — Lonnie Argent, 5, and his brother, Rickie, 4, climbed up a ladder to the top of a 63-foot drive-in movie screen in an effort to catch pigeons nesting there. Firemen had to remove the pair.

Chief Bryan Given Penalty

department's red station wagon was parked — as it frequently had been — behind a used car lot building alongside the Kin-Z Bar on the night of Oct. 30," the mayor said.

"On investigation we found that the report was true and that the chief and his wife had been using the city car. He was brought in here for interrogation and these facts were disclosed: That he had taken the fire department station wagon to Salem supposedly to see a brother in the hospital, but he had done this without notifying this office he was going out of town, without reporting he was going off duty, without getting permission to leave the city and without obtaining permission for the use of the car.

"He had no permission to take the only radio-equipped piece of equipment in the fire department outside radio range. Investigation showed he had driven the same equipment to Midland that same morning to deliver some fire extinguishing equipment to the Midland fire department. He had no permission to take the station wagon outside the city and outside the state.

"He admitted it wasn't necessary to make this delivery. He did it on his own. It wasn't a necessary item of co-operation with the Midland department. If it had been reported to this office, permission might have been granted if the circumstances warranted. This office has tried consistently to foster co-operation with other departments."

The mayor said action would have been taken against the chief earlier, but shortly after he was questioned about the trip to Salem he reported off on the department's sick list and entered the hospital for examination. Later, he reported back with a doctor's certificate attesting that he was physically fit for duty, the mayor added.

Lawrence said he told Bryan he would not take the suspension action if the chief decided to retire, thus avoiding a blot on his record toward the end of long service. But the chief replied he had no intention of retiring, the mayor added.

"Before taking this action, I told him that as a result of these actions I would have to take drastic action," the mayor said. "I asked him if he wished to retire and save having the charge on his record. But I told him I wasn't asking him to retire. I asked him to think it over and give me his reply by 11 o'clock the next day. "The next day he contacted me and said he wasn't going to retire and he was surprised I would ask him to retire. I replied that I never had asked him to retire."

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. Is there any way I can remedy dents in one of my articles of furniture?

A. Sometimes you can raise the dents by placing a damp cloth over the dent, then a bottle cap (flat part down) to localize heat on the dent, then rest a warm iron lightly on the cap. This swells the wood fibers. If the dent fails to rise after several applications, you'll have to remove the finish over the dent with some fine sandpaper and try again. Refinish, if necessary, then rub with rottenstone, and wax.

Q. How can I frost the panes of a window?

A. Dissolve three teaspoons of Epsom salts in a glass of water; add a teaspoon of liquid glue, stirring thoroughly. Apply to the glass with a brush.

Q. How can I keep apples a long time without decaying?

A. Pack them in sawdust.

Q. How can I remove the lime scale which forms in teakettles in hard-water areas?

A. You can loosen this scale with boiling water and vinegar (half and half). Let it stand in the kettle for several hours, or overnight, then scrape out the deposit with steel wool. If necessary, repeat the process.

U.S., Soviet, 10 Others Ban A-Tests In Antarctic

By JOHN SCALI

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union joined the United States and 10 other nations today in banning war bases, nuclear explosions and missile sites forever from the antarctic.

They took this step in signing a historic treaty pledging to devote the frozen region to the peaceful uses.

They agreed to a revolutionary inspection system, giving each of the 12 countries the right to check each other's installations, equipment, ships and planes anywhere at any time in the area.

The nations involved are the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain, France, Japan, Chile, Argentina, New Zealand, Australia, Norway, South Africa and Belgium.

The 2,500-word treaty, spelled out in 14 separate articles, would neutralize the five million square miles South Pole area.

Delegates hailed the treaty, climaxing seven weeks of intensive negotiations, as another significant move to ease East-West tensions.

Besides ruling the antarctic out of bounds as a military area, the 12 signatory nations agreed to continue peaceful scientific research projects, and to swap specialists and information.

They also promised to stand together, using "appropriate efforts consistent with the charter of the United Nations" to make certain no country violates the peaceful uses of the antarctic.

The treaty, subject to ratification by each country's legislature, would be open for all 82 United Nations members to join.

Countries not U. N. members, such as West Germany and Communist China, would join only by unanimous vote of all 12 signing powers.

Spiritual Values Need Emphasis

The visit of Premier Nikita Khrushchev to our country emphasized material values far more than values not measured in terms of things and money. Perhaps the average person who saw and heard Khrushchev forgot or was unaware of the Communist denial of the existence of Almighty God. By Garry Meyers

Communists have no place for religion as we think of it. God is almost a stranger in their world. Behind the Iron Curtain they make it hard for those who want to worship God. Religion is ridiculed in Russia as the "opiate of the people." Any youth who professes to be religious is not admitted to the Communist Party and has no chance to be a government official in Russia.

IMAGINE IF this were the way in America! Imagine that no official of the American government would ever speak approvingly of any religion but would refer to it with ridicule and contempt.

What would happen? Our children would think that it was wrong to say grace at meals or pray or read the Bible or to go to church. Yet have not the eyes of America and all the Western world been centered lately on material matters? Look how we marvel at the material accomplishments of the Soviet Union!

While he was in America Khrushchev learned almost nothing of our freedoms and religious values, although when he visited Hyde Park to place a wreath on the grave of Franklin D. Roosevelt, Mrs. Roosevelt did show Khrushchev the large family Bible on which her husband had taken his oath of office as Governor of New York and as President.

SHE SAID later that she did this with the hope of conveying to Khrushchev some impression of the role religion plays in American life.

New York's Governor Nelson Rockefeller told Khrushchev that, while we are proud of our high standard of living, he hoped Mr. Khrushchev would sense more intangible values — freedom and dignity of the individual and equal opportunity to develop spiritual, intellectual and cultural capacities.

Governor Rockefeller told Khrushchev that these values grow out of our basic spiritual belief in the brotherhood of man under the fatherhood of God.

Let us remind ourselves and our children of our potential strength in these spiritual beliefs. Let us work harder at our religion. Let us not wander off and worship the "golden calf."

IF WE who profess spiritual beliefs are growing too materialistic, as the late Pope Plus warned, are we not in great danger of losing the very soul of our strength?

"Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet. Lest we forget, lest we forget."

Automation Gadgets Called More Accurate
CINCINNATI (AP) — Dr. E. L. Saenger, an expert on using atoms in medicine, says automation gadgets in the laboratory are cheaper — and more accurate.

Saenger, who heads a new training plan at the University of Cincinnati in medical use of radiation, says a device that measures radioactivity in a sample and records it can run all night on its own.

This work is mostly routine, he adds, and since some samples take a half hour to measure, there is chance for human error due to plain boredom.

Amikitia Members Present Program For County Home

Some 27 members of the Amikitia Club of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church presented a variety program Sunday afternoon for residents of the County Home near Lisbon.

William Conkle, master of ceremonies, introduced the "Frilly Follies" comprised of Kenneth Persohn, James Locke, Francis Cumberly, Thomas Snow and William Persohn. Mrs. Jeanne Snow pantomimed Perry Como's record of "Nobody" in costume.

Jimmy Locke with the aid of a puppet, "Fuzz, the Bunny" played "Stardust" on the trumpet, accompanied by his father, James Locke, on the guitar. A group of 12 sang the comedy number, "Oh Yeah."

Another record pantomime was "Alvin's Harmonica," led by Thomas Snow. The Chipmunks were played by Ralph Locke, James Conkle and Robin Snow. Thomas Snow and Mrs. Loretta Cumberly recited anecdotes through the intermission. Sam Parkes was caller for a square dance.

Vocal selections given were Terry Persohn "Singing in the Rain," Denise and Diane Persohn "Joyful, Joyful, We Adore Thee" and Denise and Terry Persohn, "The Keeper."

An original playlet by William Conkle, "The Country Store," was acted by William Persohn, Bernard Locke, Jimmy Locke, James Locke, Mrs. Margaret Locke, Francis Cumberly, Mrs. Virginia Conkle, Kenneth Persohn and Mrs. Doris Persohn.

Francis Cumberly led the community sing for the closing. Mrs. Louise Van Fossen was accompanist for the program.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My 16-year-old daughter is absolutely wild, crazy, insane over Pat Boone. She has every record he's ever made. His pictures are all over her wall. When he's on TV she swoons and moans until the rest of the family would like to bat her over the head to bring her to her senses. Nora would rather stay at home and listen to Pat Boone's records than go out with a fellow she knows. What can I do about this silly kid? It's beginning to worry me. — NAUSEATED.

Dear Nauseated: She'll get over this as she did the chicken pox and measles. In the meantime, a few words of logic may make a dent.

Granted Pat Boone is an attractive and clean-cut young man. He can even sing a little. But teen-agers who flip completely over jukebox idols waste time and energy which could be better spent.

It's okay to make occasional flights into fantasy but people who allow themselves to become swallowed by dreams wind up having trouble fitting into the world of reality.

Art In Dark

Dear Ann: This friend (I'll call her Mrs. Smythe) showed some of her paintings to a group of close friends. A certain woman went into ecstasy over one of the paintings. My friend had the painting framed at a cost of $16 and presented it to her on her birthday.

Several weeks later Mrs. Smythe went to a tea in this woman's home and was shocked to find the painting stuck in a hallway, behind a large rubber plant. A person would have to search to find it.

Should she ask for the painting back now that she is sure it means nothing to these people? — T.Y.

Dear T.Y.: The gift was presented in good faith with no strings attached. She had better forget it.

Dutiful Daughter

Dear Ann: My daughter is 21. She was home for the weekend and had to leave on a 7:30 plane to return to college.

Her boy friend brought her home at 1:30 and they woke me up and asked if it would be okay for him to stay and drive her to the airport at 6:30 a.m. I told them it would NOT be respectable for them to sit up all night alone and that I had no intention of sitting up with them.

We got into a fuss and my daughter told her boy friend to leave and wait in the car. She said she'd be out at 5 a.m. and they would go to an all-night restaurant for breakfast on the way to the airport.

In my opinion, any way you look at it, she was asking for permission to let the young man stay all night and I would not agree to it. Now she is mad at me. Your opinion, please. — I.A.Q.

Dear I.A.Q.: When a daughter, 21, wakens her mother and asks for permission to let her boy friend visit and then drive her to the airport, it's a pretty safe bet the gal can be trusted. If she were on the "wild" side, there are other places she could have gone besides home.

Your refusal was a vote of no confidence and she had a right to resent it. These were special circumstances and merited special consideration.

Next time, however, it would be better if he brought her home at 10 p.m. and came to get her at 5 a.m.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Legion-Sponsored Mental Health Plan To Get Started

CHARLESTON (AP) — About 500 persons have been invited to attend a conference here next Saturday to work out a public education program in problems of mental health at state and local levels.

The affair has been set up by the West Virginia Department of the American Legion, which has made the improvement of mental health its No. 1 undertaking in the current year.

Department Commander Bonn Brown of Elkins extended invitations to the Saturday conference to Gov. Underwood, other elected state officials and to representatives of civic, labor, education, religious and medical groups.

The principal speaker will be Mike Gorman of Washington, D.C., executive director of the National Committee Against Mental Illness. Inc. The Legion will be host at a luncheon to follow Gorman's address.

The 10 a. m. conference will open with a general discussion in which the following will participate:

State Mental Health Director Richard J. Lilly; Dr. L. J. Pace of Princeton, chairman of the West Virginia State Medical Association's Committee on Mental Health; Paul K. Reed of Charleston, president of the West Virginia Assn. for Mental Health, Inc., and Vice President Kenneth E. Penrod of the West Virginia University Medical Center at Morgantown.

Plans for the conference were mapped here Nov. 21 by a special committee within the Legion department named by Brown. Immediate objectives call for establishment of an advisory committee on mental health made up of representatives from educational, labor and other fields.

Gorman, a New York University graduate and Army veteran, is a former Oklahoma City, Okla., newspaperman. He authored a book entitled "Oklahoma Attacks Its Snake Pits," and in 1948 he became the first newspaperman to receive the Lasker Award of the National Committee for Mental Hygiene for his writing in the field of medicine and psychiatry.

In 1952, Gorman became chief writer and director of public hearings for the President's Commission on Health Needs of the Nation. The New York City native, who is 46, accepted his present post in 1953.

Remodeling Work At Cost Of $4,650 Cleared For City

New construction stopped completely and only three permits for remodeling projects were issued in East Liverpool during November, Mayor Fred P. Lawrence's office said today.

The three remodeling jobs called for an expenditure of an estimated $4,650, a drop of $7,500 from the $12,150 authorized in October, the mayor's office said.

Here are the permits issued, the work authorized and the estimated costs:

James A. Locke Jr., to add a room to a home at 1512 Wyoming Ave., $1,500.

W. L. Polk, to repair windows at the Thompson Hotel at E. 3rd St. and Broadway, $600.

Martin J. Fridrick, to install aluminum siding on a home at 1849 Harvey Ave., $2,550.

Leaves Sum To Charity

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP)—Emanuel G. Kaufman, a clerk at the H. Freedlander Co. department store here from 1900 to 1936, left more than $42,000 to charity when he died last month, his will filed in Probate Court Monday showed. Bequests of $10,000 each were left to Rowsburg Lutheran Church, Wayne County Cancer Society, Wayne County Tuberculosis Society and Wayne County Polio Foundation. Boys Village near Smithville and Rowsburg Cemetery Assn. received $1,000 each. Relatives were willed $7,500 of the $60,000 estate.

$5,867 Offer Seen Low For Refuse Truck

Three bids to supply a new incinerator truck with a 16 cubic yard "packer" body and a lone offer for a "packer" body unit only were taken under advisement after the Board of Control opened bids Monday afternoon at Mayor Fred P. Lawrence's office.

Mike Turk, Inc., submitted the apparent low bid for a truck with packer body, offering a 1960 Chevrolet 2-ton cab and chassis with a PakMor unit installed for a net of $5,867. The truck would have a 6-cylinder engine with 4-speed transmission.

The company said the chassis with the unit would cost $7,367 but it would allow the city $1,500 for a trade-in of the present 1956 Chevrolet with a 13 cubic yard "packer" body.

If the city desires a low cab forward model, it will cost $308 additional, the bid said.

Carroll Motor Sales, Inc., submitted a net bid of $6,085 for a 1960 Ford 6-cylinder with 4-speed transmission. The truck cost was placed at $3,781 with a trade-in of $2,000 allowed. The PakMor unit installed would cost another $4,304, it said.

The Road Machinery & Supply Co. of Cleveland asked $9,414 for a 1960 GMC truck with a 16 cubic yard Leach Packmaster body less a $1,500 trade-in on the present packer truck. The new truck also would have a 6-cylinder engine with 4-speed transmission. If a 13-inch clutch and 5-speed transmission are desired, an additional $404 would be charged, the bid said. The company said delivery would depend on "receipt of the truck chassis and the steel strike." The Brinker Supply Co. of Dover offered a 16 cubic yard M-B packer body mounted on a city-owned truck chassis at New Holstein, Wis., for $3,545.

Admitted Slayer Of Three Sobs At Her Arraignment

HARRISONVILLE, Mo. (AP) — Betty Lou Moore, 29, who has admitted slaying her husband and two children, sobbed, screamed and fought with officers at her arraignment Monday.

"It isn't true," she screamed as she snatched a murder complaint from the magistrate and tore the paper to pieces. "I want to die," she wept during an earlier interview.

She was ordered held without bond for a preliminary hearing Dec. 8.

Her husband, Charles Moore, 25, and their children, Menty Janelle, 5, and David, 4, were shot while sleeping in their home at Belton, Mo., last Friday night.

The next day Mrs. Moore, fleeing in the family car, surrendered to police at Grand Island, Neb., and said she had shot her family.

Elite Police On Duty

NEW YORK (AP) — An elite corps of 75 patrolmen—all over 6 feet, under 30 years of age, and jiu jitsu experts—will go on duty tonight, assigned to the Lower East Side, where there has been a rash of muggings and robberies recently. The new squad was organized as an experiment to help cope with the city's crime problem.

Another Page Written Into Sheppard Case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—There's another page in the Sam Sheppard wife-murder case — two sealed packets of depositions were filed with the Ohio Supreme Court Monday.

The action came on the eve of the deadline set by the court to receive more information on claims that evidence was suppressed in the 1954 trial.

Sheppard, who is serving a life sentence for the second-degree murder of his wife, Marilyn, in their Bay Village home, has testified that on the night of the murder he grappled with a bushy-haired intruder who knocked him out.

The defense has claimed that blood found on Marilyn's wrist watch was of a type different from hers and Sheppard's and thus came from a third person—the slayer.

Last Oct. 14, the defense said the state claimed at the trial that blood-test evidence was inconclusive although a laboratory examination disclosed its type. At that time the high court said any deposition filed by the defense would be confined to the blood-type question.

The depositions were filed in connection with an attempt by the defense to clear the way for an appeal to federal courts in a habeas corpus proceeding after Sheppard's conviction was upheld.

The Supreme Court denied Sheppard a writ of habeas corpus but defense counsel asked to have the entry changed to show that permission was refused to submit evidence. Counsel explained that the change was necessary for a federal appeal.

New Headache Discovery Relieves Pain of Mild Migraine Headache

New 2-layer tablet relieves pain and nausea in minutes. Brings faster, safer relief from any ordinary headache, too!

So safe it needs no prescription!

Today medical science announces a new headache discovery so fast-acting and effective that it relieves the sick, throbbing pain and nausea of mild Migraine headache in minutes! And if it can do it for this sick, throbbing Migraine headache, think what it can do for any ordinary headache!

It's an exclusive new two-layer, pink-and-white tablet called Duplexin—a doctor's new formula that contains no narcotics. So safe it needs no prescription!

First in Medical History

The secret of Duplexin's amazing effectiveness is its exclusive two-layer formula. It's the first headache discovery in medical history that relieves headache pain and nausea with this double-action formula! It does in seconds what no aspirin or buffered aspirin can ever do!

1. Duplexin's white layer concentrates on relieving headache pain faster. The throbbing pain vanishes in minutes.

2. Duplexin's pink layer gives you a revolutionary new clinic-proven discovery never before available in a headache remedy. It completely neutralizes painful gastric acid almost instantly! It relieves nausea and relieves that sick, upset feeling.

Faster, Safer Relief!

With incredible speed—and with soothing gentleness—new Duplexin not only relieves headache pain, but—because of its double-action—it also calms pain-sensitive nerves, relieves depression, anxiety, nervous tension and nausea as no single-action headache remedy can.

Pain vanishes in a hurry! You feel relaxed and comfortable.

Get relief—or money back!

Whenever a headache strikes, new Duplexin is guaranteed to bring relief or your money back. If you use Duplexin at the first sign of attack you can actually help prevent those Migraine pains! For severe Migraine, see your doctor.

For faster, safer headache relief, get two-layer Duplexin! You've never known anything like it!

1-WHITE LAYER

concentrates on relieving headache pain in minutes!

2-PINK LAYER

relieves nausea, settles stomach upset as no single-action headache remedy can.

Foulks Seeks County Post

An East Liverpool area Republican announced his candidacy today for county commissioner and a Salem Democrat said he will run for the nomination for state senator at the primaries May 3.

L. H. Foulks of Calcutta said he will seek the four-year term of county commissioner.

Foulks, a custom farmer doing combining and baling for 30 years, is serving the second year of a four-year term as St. Clair Township trustee, to which he was elected in 1957.

He was born and reared in St. Clair Township and is a member of the Longs Run United Presbyterian Church. Mr. and Mrs. Foulks have a son and daughter, both married.

John Taylor of Salem, a former state senator, announced today he will seek the extra state senator's post to which the 20th-22nd District will be entitled in 1960.

A publisher of religious printing and former Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor in 1956, Taylor will seek the post in the district which includes Columbiana, Jefferson, Harrison and Belmont Counties. The incumbent, State Sen. Arthur Blake of Belmont County, was elected in 1958 for four years.

Active in party politics for many years, Taylor currently is a member of the state advisory committee of the Democratic state executive committee. He was a member of the county Democratic executive committee for many years and was temporary chairman of the party's state convention in 1958.

Taylor also has served on the Council of State Governments and was vice chairman of the Ohio Commission on Reorganization of the Executive Branch of the State Government.

Demand For Farm Products Hit Slightly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Despite the steel strike and the possibility of further work stoppages in the future, the demand for farm products appears to be affected only slightly, an Ohio State University agricultural economist says.

Writing in the latest issue of Ohio Farm and Home Research, produced by the Agricultural Experiment Station at Wooster, Prof. Mergin G. Smith also reports that:

Wages paid for farm help have increased about six per cent in the last year.

This year's corn crop apparently is a new record. Ohio had a 67-bushel yield per acre.

Farm real estate prices are still increasing slightly, but if farm income continues its downward trend the real estate price rise may slow down.

Smallpox Vaccination To Be Given Students

EAST PALESTINE — Some 335 students in all grades will receive smallpox vaccinations in clinics to be held shortly in conforming with the state compulsory immunization law, the Health Board announced today.

James Vocature, health commissioner, said the vaccine has been obtained from the state. Fifty-six students at the Negley and Unity Schools will receive their vaccinations Monday morning. The clinic will be conducted by the Columbiana County Health Department.

The other 279 are in schools in East Palestine proper. Of these, 115 are high school students. Doctors and nurses will be obtained for the clinic scheduled for Dec. 16, Vocature said.

Questionnaires were sent home to parents to determine what shots the students have had previously.

Derailment Cleared; Freight Runs Resume

Repairs were completed and traffic resumed at 1:40 p. m. Monday over the Pennsylvania Railroad Co.'s main lines through the city which were tied up by a derailment Sunday midnight near the Newell Bridge.

Both the east- and west-bound tracks were torn up when eight cars of a west-bound freight left the rails. Wreck crews from Conway and Mingo Junction started working at both ends early yesterday morning.

One empty gondola car skidded over an embankment about 60 feet, another car rolled over the edge of the embankment and the others remained on the right-of-way.

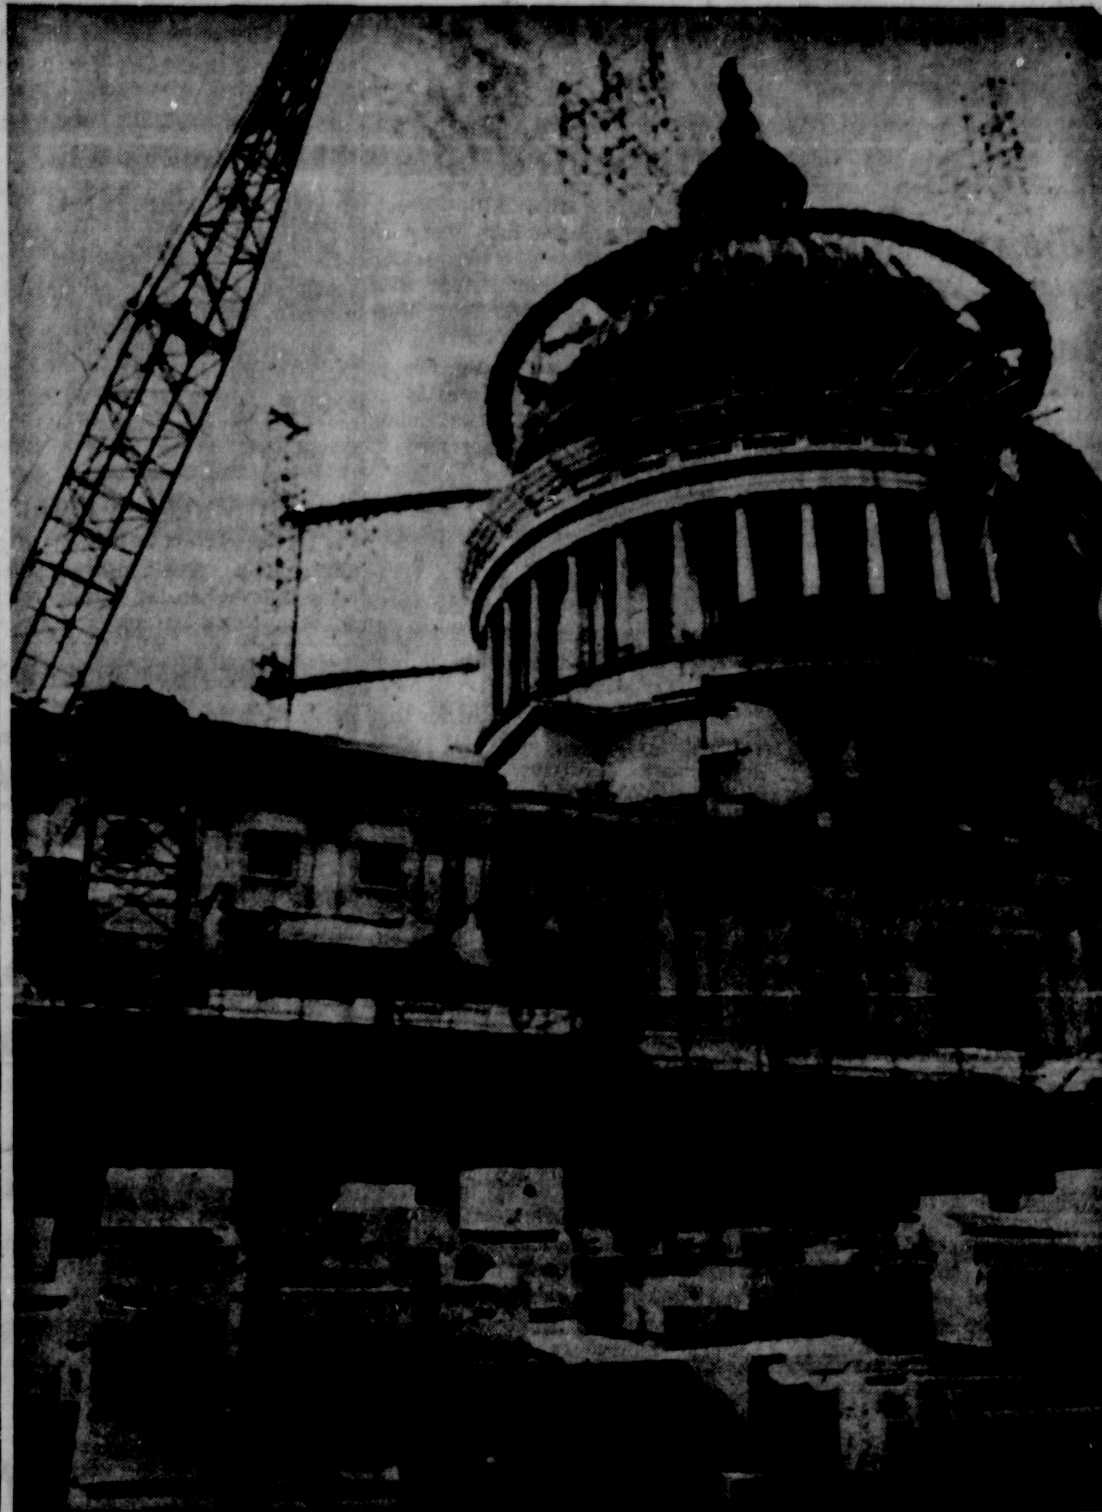

The 115-car freight was on route from Conway to Columbus.

Irontale Man Fined $300 For Destruction

An Irontale man was fined $300 for malicious destruction of property at a hearing Monday before Mayor William J. Shoub of Wellsville.

The charge against Carl Jackson was filed by Fern Porter, 6854 Main St., Wellsville. Jackson pleaded guilty.

He was arrested Sunday night. The woman filed the warrant Saturday. She claimed Jackson destroyed furniture and other articles at her home during an argument Saturday.

FACE-LIFTING CONTINUES. Lettered and numbered pieces of Georgia marble which will be fitted together to form the new East front of the Capitol at Washington are shown stacked on the Capitol Plaza. Part of the new 32½-foot extension, built to second-floor level, shows behind the scaffolding. The scaffolding also covers the domes, which is being repaired. (UPI Telephoto)

6 Deer-No Hunters-Killed In Hancock's Buck Season

Hancock County's one-day deer season Monday — the first in five years — saw at least six legal kills made as hunters turned out in chilly, 20-degree plus temperatures and stalked the woods in several inches of fresh snow for the elusive bucks.

Two hunters probably learned lessons in safety and a third that it pays to purchase a license after being cited by County Game Warden Walter McCrea of Weirton.

The actual bag won't be learned until late today as hunters have 24 hours to report their kills at three age-recording stations in the county.

A Weirton hunter, however, apparently captured the prize buck—a 12-pointer that scaled close to 200 pounds. The trophy was shot by Albert Monseau.

A Wellsburg hunter, Leno Leoni, drilled a 10-pointer on the Cowl Farm on Route 66. Harold Stover, operator of a checking station in Pughtown, said Leoni's animal was "one of the most beautiful I've ever seen."

William D. Beagle of Carrollton drilled an eight-point buck in the Northern section of the county and registered the animal at the Pughtown station.

Pittsburgh Sewage Plant Big Step On Cleaning Ohio River

CINCINNATI (AP)—Pittsburgh's new 100-million-dollar sewage plant has been a giant step toward cleaning up the Ohio River.

That was the report Monday in the annual summary of the Ohio River Valley Water Sanitation Commission.

The report by President W. E. Gosnell of Lawrenceville, Ill., went to the governors of eight states that set up the agency in 1948—Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana, Illinois, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Virginia, and New York.

He said facilities to purify sewage are either in operation or near completion for 95 per cent of the people who live along the river.

But there are some spots, Gosnell said, that still are far from satisfactory—in some industry and coal mine areas and in some lag-gard communities.

The commission set up a table

Not Rudolph, Sonny; If You Expect Santa

The deer season in West Virginia had a touch of comedy for a Pughtown family.

Burr Fink's young son, upon learning that his father and Lonnie Boyles of Newell had gone to Berkeley Springs on a hunting expedition, told his small friends that "my daddy has gone to shoot Rudolph."

The youngster was referring to Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer, of the popular Christmas song.

Other kills were made by Joe DiFilippio of Follansbee, and Chester Guz and Walter Mankowski, both of Weirton.

Cited for carrying loaded firearms in vehicles, Arthur Lewis of Chester and Eugene V. Reukauf, 119 Indiana Ave., Chester were each fined $20 and costs by Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland.

Blaine Butcher, 21, of East Liverpool was fined $20 and costs by Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland for hunting without a license.

County Farm Bureau Opens Member Drive

LISBON — Fifty attended the annual membership drive kickoff held Monday night by the Columbiana County Farm Bureau at the Guilford Grange Hall.

Carl Rufener of Sutfield, State Farm Bureau trustee, was guest speaker. Mrs. Richard Stamp of Butler Township was named captain of the drive for the western part of the county and John Hawkins of Fairfield Township was named eastern captain.

Mrs. Evelyn Hoopes of North Georgetown spoke briefly on campaign plans and distributed supplies to township workers.

Susan Pike and Faye Dorr played a piano duet and Kenneth Votaw played a trumpet solo, accompanied on the piano by his sister, Carolyn Votaw.

Galen Greenisen of Salem R. D. 2, county president, presided. The women's committee served.

Hoaglin Elected Head Of Campfire Council

EAST PALESTINE — George Hoaglin was elected president of the East Palestine Campfire Council at the annual business and reorganization meeting Monday night at Mackall's Restaurant.

Formerly a director, Hoaglin succeeds Robert Smith as head of the council which directs the activities of the 350-member Campfire and Bluebird organizations.

Parole Slated For 3 In Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two men and a woman, convicted of slayings which followed arguments, will be paroled from Ohio institutions within the next two months, the Pardon and Parole Commission said today.

They are:

Alma Bullock, 36, of Cleveland, received at Marysville Reformatory last Jan. 7 on a first-degree manslaughter conviction. Authorities said she fatally stabbed her husband, Henry, with a kitchen knife after a domestic quarrel.

Tom Dixon, 43, also of Cleveland, who has served 10 years on a second-degree murder conviction for the fatal shooting of Norman Allen. Dixon is at the Marion Correctional Institution.

Grady Ellison, 36, of Youngstown, sentenced for first-degree manslaughter in the fatal shooting of Eugene Bowden, a roomer at Ellison's home, and Mack Turner.

Ellison claimed self-defense, contending that the two men were fighting and that Turner attacked him. He said the shooting of Bowden was an accident. Ellison also is at the Marion Institution.

As a result of hearings, the commission granted 17 paroles at Marysville, repared two others and revoked three paroles. At Marion, 36 paroles and seven repareds were granted. Five paroles were revoked.

Trailer Heater Peril Results In Warning

LISBON — Dr. C. S. Palmer, Columbiana County health commissioner, today issued a warning to owners of trailers using Thurm heaters, distributed by the Excello Trailer Co. of Middletown.

He said the Ohio Department of Health has advised that some of the Thurm heaters are defective and can produce enough carbon monoxide to cause death in 15 minutes. Some 16 deaths have already been attributed to these heaters, and a number have been installed in trailers in this area, he said.

Dr. Palmer urged all trailer owners to have their heaters checked carefully for any defects.

Benjamin Harrison is the only U.S. president elected from the state of Indiana.

OHIO POWER COMPANY

Competitive Stage Seen Near

Strides In Atomic Power Are Emphasized By Price

ATLANTIC CITY — Progress in the design of atomic power plants of a proven type now has reached the point where it is possible to guarantee plant cost, capacity and fuel consumption, Gwilym A. Price, chairman of the board of directors of the Westinghouse Electric Corp., declared here Monday.

"We at Westinghouse always have been reluctant to predict when atomic plants will compete commercially with conventional facilities," he pointed out.

"Today, however, we are willing to go on record as believing that this time is just about here now. Large nuclear power plants of a proven type can now be built which will produce electricity in some high fossil fuel cost areas at a cost competitive with conventional plants.

"It is now possible to guarantee the cost of these plants, their capacity and the amount of fuel they will consume."

Price spoke on the occasion honoring him with the highest award that engineers can bestow upon an individual — the John Fritz Medal which is presented annually "for notable scientific or industrial achievement."

The presentation was made at the annual meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. The three other engineering societies who participated in administering the award are the American Society of Civil Engineers, the American Institute of Mining, Metallurgical and Petroleum Engineers and the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

The Westinghouse board chairman explained that American industry needs practical operating experience with the most promising types of atomic power plants to get over the threshold of atomic technology.

"What our industry needs today," he said, "is the tempered cut and thrust of experience — experience in depth and in variety. In some cases, we need to build prototype plants to demonstrate feasibility. The more proven reactor types require successive generations of full-scale plants.

"Shippingport alone, for example, cannot tell us all we need to know about closed-cycle water reactors. We need to develop successively larger nuclear plants. Finally, we need the experience that can come only from operating such plants over a period of years."

Public Discovery Of Rambler Rockets Stock Sales Of AMC

DETROIT (AP) — In the late spring of 1957 the car buying public suddenly discovered the compact Rambler.

It took the stock buying public almost two more years to discover Rambler's parent, American Motors.

In each instance, the discovery caused a major explosion. Rambler car sales virtually doubled in 12 months. For 1959 they will almost double again with a total of some 350,000.

American Motors stock two years ago this month was selling for $5.25 a share. It closed Monday at $96.50, an advance of about $40 since early September.

After the market closed Monday, company directors declared two 60-cent dividends, one regular and one extra, and recommended splitting the stock three to one. This proposal will be presented to the AMC annual meeting Feb. 3.

The proposal was made as the firm announced record earnings of $60,341,823, after taxes, for the 1959 fiscal year, equal to $10.16 a share. Last year, AMC reported earnings of $26,085,134, or $4.65 a share.

A canny investor who bought 100 shares for a Christmas present two years ago would show a paper profit of more than $8,100 by now.

If you missed the boat, you have plenty of company. Around Detroit there is an "almost society" of those who tell how they almost got rich on American Motors stock.

The most widely known big loser is Louis E. Wolfson, the Florida financier who at one time was AMC's largest single stockholder with a reported 430,000 shares.

Wolfson sold out in 1958, taking a profit of about 1 1/2 million dollars. But the Security and Exchange Commission said Wolfson also sold 150,000 shares short.

Short selling is the practice of selling borrowed stock in the expectation the price will drop. AMC went up instead, and it was estimated the move cost Wolfson and some associates all of the profit made on the sale.

AMC now is the highest priced (per share) auto stock in Wall Street but its ratio between price and earnings, which investment houses use to compare stock merits, compares favorably with other rated stocks.

West Virginia Business Shows Gains Over 1958, Report Says

CHARLESTON (AP) — Business is doing better this year than last in West Virginia.

The State Chamber of Commerce reported that 75 per cent of the indices it uses to measure the economy showed gains for the first 10 months of 1959 over the same period in 1958.

The prediction was that the trend would continue for the remainder of the year.

The statistics relied upon by Business Index, the chamber's monthly publication, run through only October. Ten of its 20 indices were higher that month than in September.

Optimism about business conditions was derived from the temporary settlement of the steel strike. "The return to work will provide a strong stimulus to the state's November and December trade and business activity," the report said.

Employment outside of farming ran to 455,000 in October, a decrease of 14,000 in the year. But salaries and wages totaled 180 million dollars, three million more than in October of 1958.

Cash farm income, like that in industry and commerce, was up. It stood at 12 million dollars for the latest month compared with 11 1/2 million at the same time in 1958.

Both average weekly earnings in mining and manufacturing went up about $5 during the 12 months. In mining, the new figure was $113.89 and the old $108.17; in manufacturing, the new figure was $93.30 and the old $87.75.

For the 10 months of this year compared with the same period in 1958, the five segments of business that showed decreases were all within 2.8 per cent or less of their previous levels. The five were railroad carloadings, petroleum production, coal production, employment and the sale of ordinary life insurance.

New York Bus Strike Postponed 2 Weeks

NEW YORK (AP) — A threatened bus strike affecting two million riders a day has been postponed for at least two weeks.

Only four hours before a Monday midnight deadline the Transport Workers Union agreed to consider a new offer by the seven private companies involved. About 8,000 drivers and mechanics were set to strike the firms in Manhattan, the Bronx and Queens, and parts of suburban Westchester County.

The union sought a 15 per cent increase on wages now averaging $2.24 to $2.35 an hour. This would average 33 to 35 cents an hour. The companies offered a 7 cents an hour increase, retroactive until today.

AP Sports Editor's Son, 19, Found Dead

NEW YORK (AP) — Garrit Smits, 19, son of Associated Press General Sports Editor Ted Smits, was found dead of a gunshot wound today in a bedroom of his family's apartment. Police listed his death as apparent suicide.

The body, discovered by the youth's stepmother, Pamela Smits, lay in bed with a .22 rifle propped between the legs.

The family lives at 601 East 20th St., in Peter Cooper Village.

Start Trouble, Too

NEWARK, N. J. (AP) — Starter pistols, used in athletic events, apparently have also been used to start trouble, the Essex County grand jury says. It urged that the pistols be regulated so that minors can't buy them. Jurists noted that the pistols, made to shoot blanks, could be converted to shoot real bullets.

Out Of The Air

By JOHN CROSBY

TV Men Don't Understand Freedom Of Press

Television spokesmen, particularly NBC's, are getting positively paranoid. The belief seems to be growing that the quiz and payola mess is being overplayed deliberately by newspapers to embarrass a competing advertising medium.

This would be a serious charge if it weren't so naive. Just the other day Dave Garraway, who normally is quite sane, fell to talking about critics in general and managed to emit this remarkable statement:

"I feel sorry for critics. Not television critics. I'm not thinking of them. They're in a class by themselves. They are paid by one advertising medium to destroy another, and therefore their motives are quite apparent, I think."

And then he went on to talk about theater critics "who can be honest about the medium" — as if television critics cannot be honest about theirs.

THE TERRIBLE THING about this is that Garraway probably is sincere in saying it.

The great weakness of the broadcasting business is that there is no separation of powers as there is in publishing. In radio and television, stars like Garraway live under the immediate and intimate control of their advertisers. They are so accustomed to doing what they are told that it's inconceivable to them that we don't run our business that way.

It's unimaginable to Garraway that in 13 years as a radio and television critic I have yet to hear a word from the advertising department or from an advertiser or from a publisher or an editor to lay on or to lay off or to do anything except to have a decent respect for the laws of libel.

This is the normal procedure in the newspaper business but it's almost impossible to explain this to anyone in broadcasting. Even Robert W. Sarnoff, president of NBC, finds it hard to believe that the publishers are not ganging up on TV to crack a competitor over the skull.

I DON'T MEAN to say that publishers don't enjoy the discomfort of the broadcasters. Of course they enjoy it. Publishers hate broadcasters as tigers hate lions. It's in their blood.

On a lower level, it's axiomatic that newspapermen and actors loathe each other on general principle.

But a conspiracy to denigrate the medium — the publishers whipping on their hired hacks to flay television — exists only in the broadcasters' own minds.

As a matter of fact, the only recorded instance of a publisher's messing with his TV critics was the other way around: William Randolph Hearst attempted (not very successfully, as far as I can see) to quiet his newspapers' critics and to make them be a little nicer to people and programs in television.

OF COURSE, I occasionally think newspapers have overplayed the quiz scandal, but not for any competitive reasons. Editors have overplayed this story as they overplay a murder story. Sheer overzealousness. But why impugn our motives in the process?

Lately Jack Paar has jumped into the fray, too. The other night he told a story about a prostitute who got religion and saw sin everywhere.

"Those columnists with their payola!" cried Paar. "Why do they have to be such zealots?"

In other words, why does a reporter report? Well, I don't know. Why does an actor act? It's what he's for, Mr. Paar.

It's the nature of the profession for editorial writers to write editorials. The fact that the editorials happen currently to be about television is because Congress happens to be investigating the malpractices of the broadcasting industry.

But the newspaper business didn't start either the investigation or the malpractices. So why blame us?

ACTUALLY, the idea that TV critics were hired "by one medium to destroy another" rather ignores the fact that at least 130 television licenses now are held by newspapers or owners of newspapers. Would a publisher try to destroy part of his own investment?

Even where you find newspapers and TV stations in the same corporate family — as in the case of the New York Herald Tribune, for that matter — there is no common policy or purpose. No editorial staffer I know of is asked to plug the boss' TV station any more than he's asked to belt the opposition.

The tradition is freedom to observe and report the facts as they are, not as the business office wishes they were.

It's the tradition of freedom that people like Garraway and Paar can't understand because they've never had any.

Petition Seeks New Trial In Fraud Case

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—A petition for a new trial was filed Monday in U. S. District Court here for Charles G. Rhodes, 37, former Huntington real estate broker and once head of the West Virginia Realty Assn. Rhodes was convicted of making a false report to a federally chartered loan organization.

The false report was in connection with a $19,852 loan obtained under a power of attorney on an apartment building here owned by Dr. Glen C. Powell of Carrollton, Ohio. Dr. Powell denies granting such authority.

Church Damaged

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—Smoke and fumes from a storeroom fire Monday caused damage to the new St. Paul's Lutheran Church here. While only about $300 worth of supplies were burned, the entire interior of the church will have to be cleaned.

Debate Looms On Peace And Farm Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — The relative effects of the peace issue and sinking farm prices on the outcome of next year's election came under senatorial debate today.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois conceded that low hog prices and a huge surplus of wheat "offer some real difficulties" to his party in the farm belt.

But Dirksen said he thinks Republican candidates will benefit from President Eisenhower's first-hand efforts to promote world peace. He cited the 11-nation trip on which Eisenhower embarks Thursday in this connection.

Sen. Eugene M. McCarthy (D-Minn.) said in a separate interview the GOP had better not count too heavily on peace as a campaign issue. He added that the world may not be any closer to a settlement of its disputes next November than it is now.

On the other hand, McCarthy said he thinks Republicans will suffer at the polls for low farm prices, which the Agriculture Department said Monday declined another 2 per cent between mid-October and mid-November.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who is regarded as the leading aspirant for his party's 1960 presidential nomination, said recently the farm issue "will very possibly be the major issue on the domestic scene in 1960."

Possibly with that in mind Sen. James E. Murray (D-Mont.) contended in a statement that Nixon had helped put wheat prices "on the skids" by a 1956 tie-breaking vote in the Senate. Nixon cast the deciding vote then against a Democratic proposal for a return to rigid high-level price supports on basic crops.

Defendant Favored In Lisbon Jury Trial

LISBON — A Common Pleas Court jury deliberated half an hour Monday afternoon and returned a verdict in favor of the defendant, Ernest Rea, 16, of Salem R. D. 3, in a property damage action for $716.90 for a car-tractor accident June 23, 1958, on Route 45, south of Salem.

Permanent Insurance Co. of Columbus and Ted Albright of Salem sued Rea, through his father Ed W. Rea. A car driven by Albright struck a farm tractor driven by Rea entering route 45 from his father's farm.

The trial began Monday before Judge Raymond S. Buzzard and the jury included:

Hazel Costello and Helen Trelven of East Liverpool, Fred F. Culp of Wellsville, William J. Hillard of Salem, Frank Baker, Kathryn Gunn and Pauline Burton of Lisbon, Kathryn Weaver of Salineville, E. E. Gause of Hanoverton; Donald Dickey of Elkton, Beryl Fitzpatrick of Columbiana and Velma Zepernick of Kensington.

Shortage Of Water Closes Adams Schools

WEST UNION, Ohio (AP)—A water shortage in this Adams County community has closed schools and limited household use of water. Nearby communities have been asked to aid in fire fighting.

The shortage began last Saturday when a booster pump which helps pump water from Lake Adams, two miles north of here, to the town water tower, broke down. Mayor Lloyd Rush said he hopes the tower can be refilled by Saturday.

Ceramic Society To Announce Winner Of Bleininger Award

The name of the winner of the 13th annual Albert Victor Bleininger Memorial Award for "distinguished achievement in the field of ceramics" is expected to be announced Dec. 11 at a "split" meeting of the Pittsburgh Section of the American Ceramic Society.

The society's sessions will be held at the Elks Club in New Castle and in the George Washington Hotel in Washington, Pa.

At the New Castle meeting, Herbert Rolke of the Allied Engineering Division of the Ferro Corp. at Cleveland will speak on ceramic industries in South America. He returned recently from South America, where he spent many years as a ceramic consultant.

The program will open with a social hour at 6. Dinner will be at 7. At the Washington meeting, George Dib, a nuclear consultant, will discuss "Nuclear Energy and the Space Age."

Alleged Vice Ties In 3 Ohio Cities Already Probed

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Don Robertson, administrative assistant to Attorney General Mark McElroy, said today alleged links between vice operations and officials in Alliance, Canton and Massillon have been under investigation since August.

A Special Grand Jury will be impaneled in about a month to hear testimony of about 100 persons, Robertson told a news conference at a motel here.

Among those called to testify will be elected officials and law enforcement officers, he said, adding that "that doesn't mean necessarily that the officials called to testify have been culpable."

"However, there is a connection between the officials and gambling," said Robertson. He declined to name the witnesses he said would be subpoenaed.

The Special Grand Jury was to have started today, but "we didn't want two grand juries working at the same time," Robertson said. The Stark County Grand Jury now is in session.

He said five investigators now are in Stark County gathering evidence for the Special Grand Jury to consider.

City Motorist Among 3 Penalized At Lisbon

Three motorists, including one from East Liverpool, were fined Monday by County Judge James L. MacDonald at Lisbon and two others forfeited bonds when they failed to appear.

John Jones, 59, of Salineville R. D. 1 was fined $50 and costs for illegal transfer of registration but the fine was suspended providing he complies with the law.

Harry W. Davis, 41, of East Liverpool R. D. 2, and Duane O. Joy, 18, of Salem R. D. 3 were fined $5 and costs each, Davis for crossing the yellow line and Joy for speeding.

Willie Williams Jr., 33, of Akron and Joseph Bodnar, 45, of Cleveland forfeited $20 each for speeding and passing without the assured clear distance, respectively. All were cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Relief Rolls Cut

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Resumption of work in the steel mills has cut Trumbull County's relief rolls by 2,900, W. S. Wike, welfare director, said Monday. From a peak of 2,740 cases in the week ended Nov. 14, about 740 families remain on the relief rolls, he said, and about 500 of these were on relief before the steel strike started. Wike estimated the county will have a relief operation deficit of about $400,000 for the year.

500 Expected At Polio Clinic

An estimated 500 students, pre-school age children and adults will be given polio shots Thursday at a clinic at South Side High School near Hookstown, sponsored by the Parent - Teacher Association of the high school and elementary school.

Mrs. Ella Jean Sloppy, chairman, urged that those who have not had shots or have allowed too much time to lapse between them should start the series.

A fee of 75 cents will be charged for each shot. The first clinic will be held from 9:30 to 11:30 a. m. for students and from 7 to 8 p. m. for adults and pre-school children.

Adults and pre-school children will register when they appear for shots. Students have been registered on forms available at the schools.

Candy will be given children. Arrangements have been made for doctors, nurses, syringes, needles, vaccine and other necessary supplies. The second clinic will be held in the first week of January.

Paul Pugh Named WOHI Manager

Paul F. Pugh of Calcutta has been named manager of radio station WOHI and WOHI-FM here. He succeeds Arthur H. Simmers, who resigned to accept a position in the sales department of WMCK at McKeesport, Pa.

Prior to assuming his new post, Pugh, 35, was employed four years as a salesman with the Bostitch Stapling Corp. of Minneapolis and four years as new car sales manager for Mike Turk, Inc. He is a graduate of Union High School, Burgettstown, and attended Xavier University and Geneva College. He served as a bombardier with the Air Force in World War II and was a prisoner of war in Germany for two years. He also served in the Korean War, being discharged in 1952 with the rank of captain.

Pugh and his wife, the former Arlene Malone of Florence, Pa., have two sons and two daughters. Pugh is a past president of the Calcutta School PTA and is superintendent of the Sunday School of the Longs Run Presbyterian Church.

Nominations for the Bleininger Award closed Nov. 15. Persons from all branches of the ceramic industry are eligible and there are no restrictions on age, residence or duration of the work. Once a nomination is received by the committee, it remains active for three years.

West Virginia Man Wins Damage Suit

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—T. E. Lee of St. Albans was awarded $16,200 in Federal Court Monday in his $50,000 damage suit against Clyde Warner of Gallipolis, Ohio.

Lee, a former employee of the Kuhn Construction Co., said he was permanently injured Dec. 24, 1957, in a collision between the car he was operating and a pickup truck driven by the defendant. The accident, Lee said, caused him to have one leg amputated.

Wreck Injuries Fatal

LOPAIN, Ohio (AP) — Robert Kiesel, 16, of Bay Village, died in St. Joseph Hospital here Monday night of injuries received Saturday night in an automobile accident in Avon. Kiesel was a passenger in a car driven by Carl Gumborg, 16, of Bay Village who was killed when the car struck a bridge abutment.

Iranian Escapes Prosecution, But Not By Immunity

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fehrad Adjoonani won't be prosecuted for slapping his girl friend, but diplomatic immunity didn't free him. He has none.

The father of the girl, the Rev. J. Glenn Boliek, a Lutheran minister, said Monday he did not intend to press charges.

Adjoonani, 17, is the son of an Iranian official here, and police first said he had diplomatic immunity. But the State Department later announced that his father's immunity did not extend to the son. The father, Mahmoud Adjoonani, is assistant director of the Iranian student exchange.

The Adjoonani youth said he was angered because his girl, Sandra Louise Boliek, 16, had been going out with other boys while he was attending Youngstown (Ohio) University. He slapped her and fired two blank cartridges from a pistol. The Iranian Embassy said it was considering sending the boy back to Iran, but had come to no decision.

Vending Machine Racket

Shady Operators Invading Usually Legitimate Field

By BERNARD GAVZER
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK — Like many other Americans, you'd like to add to your income with a small business that needs little personal attention and still brings in a nice profit. It's a good idea, but watch out. Sharp promoters lie in wait to twist your yearning to their own advantage.

In the terminology of the National Better Business Bureau, their activities are known as the vending machine schemes.

As in all activities in which opportunistic promoters fleece the public, there are a number of legitimate firms which franchise vending machines, dispensing devices and merchandise racks. But the smooth guys invade the field and cut corners. Their stock-in-trade is misleading the victims.

HOW DO the vending machine schemes work?

The NBBB cites this as a typical lure:

"$400 to $500 monthly possible — we will select a reliable man or woman from this area to re-fill and collect money from our New Automatic Merchandising Machines. No selling. To qualify applicant must have car, references and $400 to $1,200 working capital which is secured by inventory. Devoting 8 to 10 hours per week may net from $400 to $500 monthly with an excellent opportunity for taking over full-time. We will allow the person we select liberal financial assistance for expansion."

Explains Allan Backman, NBBB vice president and expert on the subject:

"At first glance, this sounds as though there is a job being offered to service the machines, but this is only a bait. The applicant finds he must buy the machines and the goods that go into them. Usually the machines and contents are inferior. The promoter may actually place machines in locations, but invariably these are poor. So the poor sucker who sinks his money into this scheme finds he must try to place them. I would say that most small investors getting hooked in this scheme end up with their machines rusting in basements or garages."

ONE GYP promoter, according to the NBBB, got more than $125,000 from 200 customers in 22 states. In another case, investors paid $640 for 16 machines that cost the promoters $184, or $11.50 each. Such schemes fleece victims of millions each year.

With vending machines to be seen virtually everywhere one turns, it may appear to be a good business to enter. The NBBB says it can be, providing you have the time and capital and that you're dealing with a reputable firm.

If you invest with a gyp promoter, you may end up like the man with four cigarette machines in poor locations. One machine, selling about 90 packs a week, produced a weekly profit of $1.10.

What should you do if you become involved in a deal that sounds pretty good?

New Synthetic Drug Saved 34, Doctor Claims

DALLAS, Tex., (AP) — An Oklahoma doctor told today of a new synthetic drug that helped save the lives of 34 gravely ill children.

Results of a trial of the drug at Oklahoma City's Wesley Hospital were told by Dr. J. Neil Lysaught at the 13th clinical meeting of the American Medical Assn.

The new drug is called Altafur. Dr. Lysaught used it on children suffering from pneumonia and bronchitis. He treated 59 children, 34 of whom were classified as either critically or severely ill.

After Altafur was given for from three to 10 days, 54 children were pronounced cured. Almost all the children had been unsuccessfully treated with antibiotics. They ranged in age from 11 days to 15 years.

The drug was considered a failure in one patient and results were inconclusive in four cases, Dr. Lysaught said.

The children all were suffering from staphylococcal infections — one of the most formidable problems facing doctors today. During the course of the study there was an epidemic of severe staphylococcal pneumonia and bronchitis in Oklahoma City.

Highway Unit To Bare Its Purchases Weekly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — News-men will be informed weekly of purchases by the Ohio Highway Department, Highway Director Everett S. Preston said Monday.

Weekly briefing sessions will be held, Preston said, to "forestall future misunderstandings." Details of each purchase of any consequence will be discussed at the weekly meetings, the highway director said.

He added that he is asking all companies doing business with the Highway Department to submit the names of their representatives and to designate whether they are salaried or commissioned.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said he is satisfied that highway purchases have been conducted properly. "The state has been cheated many times in the past on paint purchases due to inferior quality," DiSalle said.

Crash Kills Principal

KENT, Ohio (AP) — An automobile collision on Ohio 43 south of here Monday killed William Dressel, 31, principal of Brimfield Elementary School here and a mathematics instructor at Youngstown University. The Highway Patrol charged Keith Beichler, 18, of Ravenna, who was uninjured, with falling to yield half the roadway to oncoming traffic. Beichler was passing another northbound car when his automobile collided with Dressel's southbound vehicle, the patrolmen said.

An ingot is a mass of metal cast into a convenient shape for handling.

Hearing Fixed In Annexation

LISBON — Delegations of the Columbiana Exempted Village Board of Education and the Fairfield — Waterford Board of Education are scheduled to attend a hearing Wednesday at Columbus before the annexation hearing committee of the Ohio Department of Education.

The Columbiana board is seeking to have a 400-acre area south-east of the village transferred from the Fairfield-Waterford School District to the village district. The territory, with a valuation of $110,215, was annexed to the village proper a few months ago.

There are 32 students in the territory now attending Fairfield School who would attend Columbiana schools were the petition to be granted. County Supt. James McBride also is slated to attend the hearing.

Action Deferred

CLEVELAND (AP) — City Council Monday night deferred for a week final action on a $12,200,000-a-year rate increase for East Ohio Gas Co. The ordinance becomes effective 30 days after final passage. The delay by council means residential consumers, who will pay an average of 90 cents more a month under the new rates, will continue on present rates a week longer.

Will File Legal Briefs With CAB

Ohio Cities Seek More Air Routes To Gateway Areas

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio cities want more local airline routes to so-called "gateway areas" like Detroit and Pittsburgh.

A need for added routes was the consensus of opinion Monday of representatives of more than a dozen Ohio cities who, within the next few days, will file legal briefs — along with the state Division of Aviation — with the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB), objecting to part of the air service recommended earlier this month.

The CAB's initial decision, prepared by examiner Barron Fredericks, followed by about two years the Great Lakes local service investigation of intra-city airline service in the Ohio area. If no exceptions were filed, Fredericks' recommendations would have become final in 30 days.

But many of the Ohio cities have objected to all or part of the recommended service to their areas, and have until Dec. 14 to file briefs in support of their arguments. Today's meeting was called because, in the words of Aviation Division Chief C. E. A. Brown, "the state wants to present a solid front before the CAB in as far as that is possible."

The CAB probably will schedule a hearing for oral arguments after it receives the legal briefs, Asst. Atty. Gen. John A. Hoskins said.

As far as Ohio is concerned, the examiner's recommendations primarily affect Lake Central Airlines, Inc. within three years after the CAB's final decision, Lake Central would be granted authority to carry passengers, property and mail:

Between Detroit, Toledo, Sandusky, Cleveland, Akron-Canton, Youngstown and Pittsburgh.

Between Columbus, Zanesville, Wheeling and Morgantown, W. Va., Washington and Baltimore.

Between Cincinnati and Portsmouth, Parkersburg, W. Va., Marietta, Ohio, Clarksburg, Fairmont and Elkins, W. Va., Washington and Baltimore.

Between Charleston, Elkins, Clarksburg-Fairmont, Morgantown and Wheeling (all W. Va.) and Pittsburgh and Erie, Pa.

Between Bloomington and Columbus, Ind. and Cincinnati.

Between Columbus and Akron-Canton.

Between Portsmouth and Columbus.

Between Lima, Findlay, Toledo and Detroit.

Between Columbus and Cleveland non-stop.

Hoskins, who represents the state and the Aviation Division in the matter, said Ohio has four objections:

The recommendations are not flexible enough; do not allow for minor route changes without the time and expense of a CAB hearing.

There are not adequate route connections with cities in lower Michigan.

Northern Ohio cities need better tie-ins with West Virginia.

Temporary authority should be granted for service to Cincinnati.

(The application of Ozark Air Lines Inc. to extend beyond Louisville to Cincinnati via Frankfort was deferred by the CAB, for example.)

Objections voiced today at the Port Columbus Airport meeting included:

Frank M. Hackman, Lima Assn. of Commerce: "We can not see any reason for being excluded from outlets to the south. We also want a more direct route to Chicago." Russ Atkinson of New Philadelphia, Tuscarawas County Chamber of Commerce: "We have no air connections with Akron-Canton and Cleveland. Our ability to attract industry depends on developing air service."

B. Leroy Compton, Portsmouth Chamber of Commerce: "We're happy with the east-west route recommended. Our main objection is north-south service through Portsmouth to Huntington and Ashland."

Marion Mayor Michael Strong said his city wants more local air routes to the south of the state, as well as to Detroit and Toledo.

The meeting was called by the Ohio Commerce Department, of which the Aviation Division is part. Cities affected by the Great Lakes local service case are Akron, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Columbus, Dayton, Findlay, Lima, Mansfield, Marion, New Philadelphia, Portsmouth, Sandusky, Toledo, Youngstown and Zanesville.

Admit 17 Burglaries

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Two 16-year-old Northside boys have admitted 17 burglaries and that they were smoking in McKinley Elementary School Sunday shortly before a $5,500 fire broke out there, police said. The boys, picked up Sunday night, have long records of juvenile delinquency, police said. The boys denied setting fire to McKinley School where arson investigators found paper had been doused with flammable duplicating machine fluid and ignited.

New Contract Signed

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — The Hoover Co. in North Canton and Local 1985 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers have ended two months of negotiations with a two-year basic wage agreement and a four-year pension and insurance pact. In addition to improvements in welfare, the contracts call for pay raises of three per cent, or about 18 cents an hour for 1,500 workers, and a wage reopening after one year.

Heart Stimulant Pills Hunted As Pupils Get Sick

CINCINNATI (AP) — An eight-year-old girl started police on a hunt for missing heart stimulant pills Monday night after eight schoolmates became ill.

Police said the girl took two bottles of 100 pills each to school Monday and passed them out to other pupils as "cold pills."

Doctors at St. Mary Hospital where the eight youngsters were treated said three or more pills might be fatal to a child.

The eight pupils were released after treatment.

Patrolmen made a house-to-house canvas checking all pupils in the girl's third-grade classroom.

The officers turned up one bottle containing 100 pills in possession of another eight-year-old girl who had not taken any.

Investigators said about 50 pills were passed out.

Three Returning Veterans Bolster Midland's Cage Stock

Smith, Yetso, Lake Back To Pace Leopards

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

You wouldn't think that George Hamilton had too much to worry about with three of last year's regulars back, but the veteran Midland mentor has a problem.

"The success of the 1959-60 season rests largely on finding a capable 'quarterback' and an outstanding outside defensive player," Hamilton said when looking over the coming season.

"Nick Vuckovich, who will not be able to play because of being over age, will be the hardest to replace. His playmaking and feeding ability were largely responsible for the victory over Homestead last year in the playoffs," Hamilton added.

"We have a nucleus for a good team this year," Hamilton said. Returning from last year's squad are Movie Smith, Gene Lake and Steve Yetso.

Smith, who was voted most valuable player last season, was rated higher in the state than any other player in Midland history to date, having been selected on the All-State third team.

The husky 6-foot-4 cager, who has been playing varsity ball since he was a sophomore, probably will be one of the most sought after high school cagers when he graduates next spring. Smith was Midland's top scorer last season.

Gene Lake, a classy 6-foot-3 performer and cousin of Gene Lake, a former Midland great, was chosen on the All-Sectional team last year and big things are expected of him this season.

Steve Yetso, tallest of the trio at 6-foot-5, reached his peak toward the end of last season and is expected to have a fine senior year.

Filling the other two positions are Hamilton's main concern, but on hand is Carl Anderson, a 6-foot junior who saw action in all of Midland's games last year and is ready to step into a starting job.

The "quarterback", or "playmaking spot", could go to several. But leading the way is Don Migliore, a 5-foot-7 performer, along with Rudy Krivosia, a 5-foot-9 senior.

Other prospects include Allan Oberg, who has reached 6-foot-6 and will be backing up Smith at center.

Five other juniors include Larry Meriague, Jim Perkins, Dave Bruno, Sam Sallis and John Suckane.

Three sophomores bidding for varsity berths are Albert Aloi, Dick Lake and Louis Deangelo.

The schedule this season is one of the most ambitious ever attempted, Hamilton said. Beginning with Wellsville tonight, the Leopards will play 11 exhibition games, including the Ford City invitational tournament, which will include Ford City, Scott High and Leechburg. Both Scott and Leechburg were sectional winners last season.

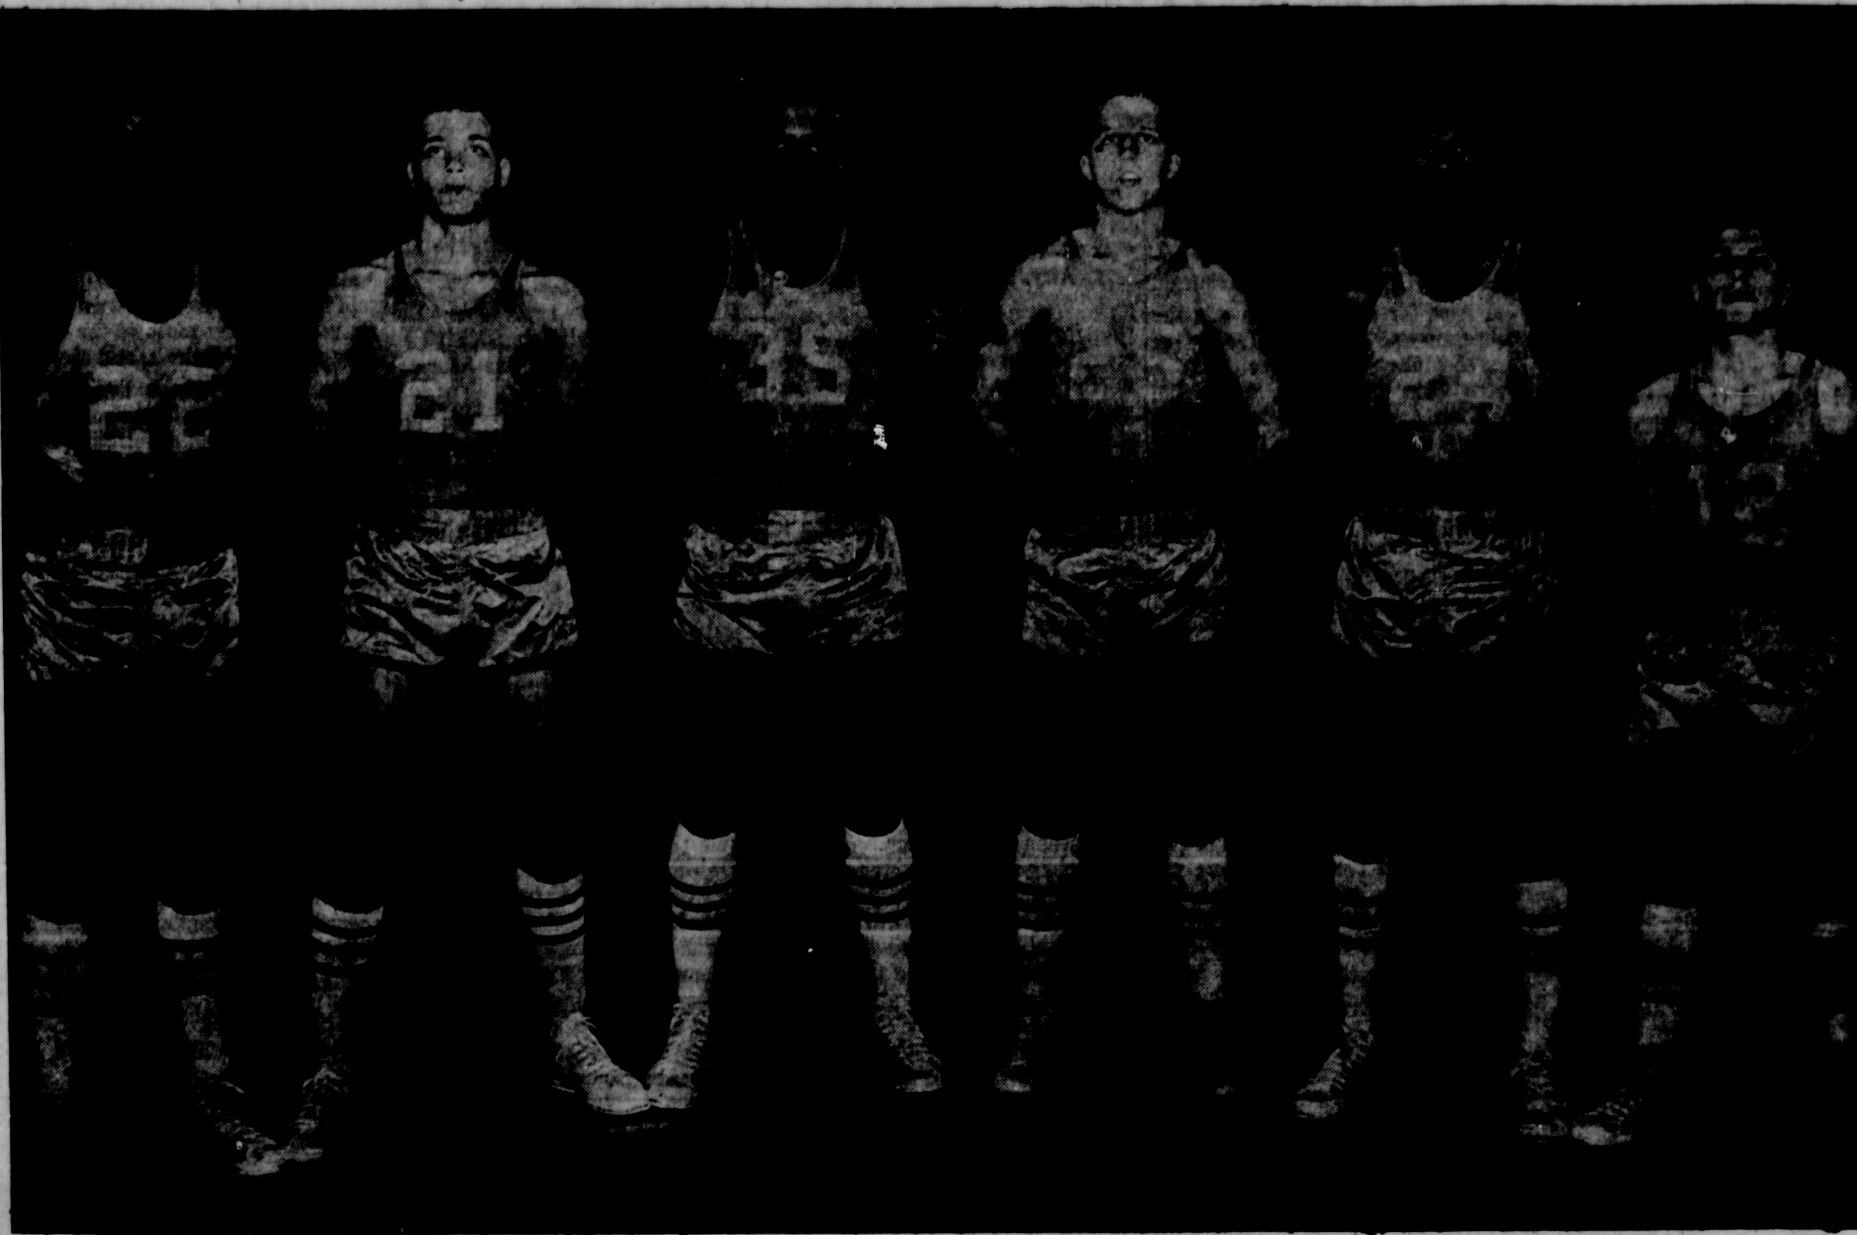

Other exhibition tilts will be with New Castle, Aliquippa, East Liverpool, South Catholic, North Hills, Ellwood City, Stowe Twp. and McKees Rocks.

Hamilton will send his charges into sectional play with Beaver on Jan. 5.

Others lost from the 1958-59 season which saw the Leopards advance to the semi-finals of the WPIAL are Frank Aloi and Jim Golpin.

The 1960-61 schedule follows:

Dec. 1 Wellsville	away
Dec. 4 Ambridge	home
Dec. 8 Stowe Twp.	away
Dec. 11 Ellwood City	home
Dec. 15 South Hills	home
Dec. 18 McKees Rocks	home
Dec. 21 Aliquippa	home
Dec. 26 New Castle	away
Dec. 29 Ford City Tourney	home
Jan. 2 East Liverpool	home
Jan. 5 Beaver	home
Jan. 8 Rochester	home
Jan. 12 New Brighton	home
Jan. 15 Monaca	away
Jan. 22 Hopewell	away
Jan. 26 Freedom	away
Feb. 2 Beaver	away
Feb. 5 Rochester	away
Feb. 9 New Brighton	away
Feb. 12 Monaca	home
Feb. 16 South Catholic	home
Feb. 19 Hopewell	away
Feb. 23 Freedom	home

Tonic Picked On East Team In Shrine Tilt

NEW YORK (AP)—A squad of 24 players, predominantly from the Midwest, was selected today by Bill Coffman, managing director of the east-west football Shrine game in San Francisco, to represent the east.

Tonic On Third Team Of All-East Squad

Midland's Ivan Tonic was named to the third team on the All-East selections today. Tonic, who has quarterbacked Pitt for the past three seasons, was third behind Richie Lucas of Penn State and Joe Caldwell of Army.

The game, 35th in the series, will be played Jan. 2 in San Francisco.

Chosen on the eastern squad were James Houston, Ohio State, Monty Sticks, Notre Dame, Don Norton, Iowa, Ted Auerman, Indiana, and Richard Brooks, Purdue, ends; Palmer Pyle, Michigan State, Gene Gossage, Northwestern, Lou Cordleone, Clemson, and Bill Lindner, Pitt, tackles; Mike McGee, Duke, Zeke Smith, Auburn, and Richard Michael, Ohio State, guards; Jackie Burkett, Auburn, Robert Scholtz, Notre Dame, and James Andreotti, Northwestern, centers; Dean Look, Michigan State, George Iso, Notre Dame, and Ivan Tonic, Pitt, quarterbacks; Bob Jeter, Iowa, Ray Jauch, Iowa, Blanche Martin, Michigan State, and Ron Burton, Northwestern, halfbacks; Robert White, Ohio State and Robert Jarus, Purdue, fullbacks.

Hamilton will send his charges into sectional play with Beaver on Jan. 5.

Others lost from the 1958-59 season which saw the Leopards advance to the semi-finals of the WPIAL are Frank Aloi and Jim Golpin.

Indians Grab Giants' Bonus Baby In Trade

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—An 18-year-old lefthander who had a 9-17 record while pitching Class C ball last season is the newest addition to the Cleveland Indians. They got him for $15,000.

Mike Lee, 6 feet 4 and 215 pounds, was selected by Tribe general manager Frank Lane in the opening of the annual draft Monday at the winter baseball meetings.

Less than a year ago Lee was highly rated, and the San Francisco Giants shelled out $30,000 in bonus money to get him. But after his bad season with Fresno in the California League, the Giants advanced Lee only to the Phoenix farm team roster.

Lee was selected under a new rule that went into effect this year. All first-year players are eligible for the draft unless promoted to the majors.

Under present plans, Lee will be carried by the Indians all season as the No. 10 pitcher. The Indians then can option him to the minors for three years.

It's like signing a bonus player, only he costs us just $15,000," Lane explained. "A few months ago he was considered one of the best prospects in the country."

"Our scouts say the kid definitely has big league potential. He can throw real hard."

Wildness was the young southpaw's major trouble at Fresno. He walked 202 batters in 162 innings. He yielded 147 hits and struck out 160 for a last-place club. His earned run average was 6.06.

"He lost the first eight games he pitched," said Lane, "and then improved as the season went along."

Montreal — Rory Calhoun, 163, White Plains, N. Y., outpointed Tony Masciarelli, 165, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., 10; Bob Cleroux, 208, Montreal, stopped Tyler Young, 185, New York, 1.

Elizabeth, N. J., Harold Carter, 195, Linden, N. J., outpointed Johnny Jenkins, 178, New York, 8.

New York — Eddie Armstrong, 139½, Elizabeth, N. J., outpointed Chico Valez, 134½, New York, 10.

Long Beach, Calif.—Joey Giambrara, 159½, Los Angeles, outpointed Orlando DiPietro, 162½, Los Angeles, 10; Jesse Jones, 145½, Los Angeles, outpointed Peter Schmidt, 146½, New York, 10.

Storm's Springfield record is equally impressive, a single loss marring his two-year tenure with the Wildcats.

Top Cage Powers In Opening Tilts

By The Associated Press

The tall boys of the dribble and dunk set begin their annual quest for college basketball's major honors tonight and, as usual, a lot of them will travel to distant regions for tryouts before settling down to championship competition.

Cincinnati, Kansas State, West Virginia, St. John's (N.Y.), St. Joseph (Pa.), Kentucky, North Carolina State and Idaho State are some of the biggies of the court game scheduled for action.

A good many games already have been played by smaller schools but NCAA regulations bind the big colleges and most of the others to a Dec. 1 start.

West Virginia and Cincinnati, second and third to champion California in the NCAA tournament last spring, again have two of the game's top individual stars. Most of the records and statistical highs that didn't go to Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson last year were gathered in by West Virginia's Jerry West. Both are All-Americans.

West Virginia opens at home against Tennessee, then puts its 50-game conference winning streak on the line against The Citadel and Furman. The Mountaineers are going after their sixth straight conference title.

Idaho State, opening against Utah State, will try for its seventh straight in the Rocky Mountain Conference. Kansas State, Cincinnati and Dartmouth will try to make it three in a row in the Big Eight, Missouri Valley Conference and Ivy League, respectively. California opens against the University's Santa Barbara branch Friday night.

Cincinnati's Robertson is slated to start his bid for records against Indiana State tonight and Marshall (W. Va.) on Saturday. If he can continue scoring at his two-year rate of 33.8 points a game, Oscar is likely to become the first player ever to win the major college scoring title three years in succession.

Some of the other top games listed tonight include Iowa at Evansville (the NCAA college division at St. Louis, St. John's Oscar Robertson last year were gathered in by West Virginia's Jerry West. Both are All-Americans.

West Virginia opens at home against Tennessee, then puts its 50-game conference winning streak on the line against The Citadel and Furman. The Mountaineers are going after their sixth straight conference title.

Idaho State, opening against Utah State, will try for its seventh straight in the Rocky Mountain Conference. Kansas State, Cincinnati and Dartmouth will try to make it three in a row in the Big Eight, Missouri Valley Conference and Ivy League, respectively. California opens against the University's Santa Barbara branch Friday night.

Cincinnati's Robertson is slated to start his bid for records against Indiana State tonight and Marshall (W. Va.) on Saturday. If he can continue scoring at his two-year rate of 33.8 points a game, Oscar is likely to become the first player ever to win the major college scoring title three years in succession.

Some of the other top games listed tonight include Iowa at Evansville (the NCAA college division at St. Louis, St. John's Oscar Robertson last year were gathered in by West Virginia's Jerry West. Both are All-Americans.

Wellsville's Season Tickets Go On Sale

Season tickets for nine Wellsville High home basketball games are now available, Don Lowe, faculty manager, announced.

Fans are to contact Lowe at the high school for ticket purchasing arrangements. Season tickets are being sold for $7.65, representing a savings of $1.35 over purchases made at the gymnasium for each home game. Tickets for the Wellsville-Midland game tonight will be sold at the new gymnasium in Midland. Reserved seats are $1 while general admissions are 75 cents and 35 cents to students.

Tipoff time for the varsity game is about 8:15 while reserve game will get underway at 6:45. Tonight's contest will mark the first varsity contest for the new gymnasium which can seat 1,800. A crowd of over 1,200 is expected for the Midland-Wellsville clash.

The game at Midland headlines the opening of the 1959-60 basketball season in the district.

Two other games are scheduled tonight with South and Beaver Local battling at the Beaver Local Gym.

Stanton Local faces one of its toughest opponents in the opener tonight at Brilliant.

While only three games are on tap tonight eight will feature Friday's card which shows Midland at Ambridge, Chester meeting the Alumni, Beaver Local at Augusta, Northwestern at South Side, Irondale, at United, Canfield visiting East Palestine, New Cumberland at Mingo Junction and North Lima at Fairfield-Waterford.

Tonight at Midland, Coach George Hamilton indicated he would start five of six players.

The six players include Movie Smith, Gene Lake, Steve Yetso, Don Migliore, Carl Anderson and Barney Silverman.

Hamilton said Smith, the Leopards' leading scorer last year, has been bothered by a foot injury and may not be in top form for tonight's game.

Wellsville's talented Tigers will probably show a starting lineup of Bob Kiggins, and Phil Baldwin at forwards with Franklin Jackson at center and Milton Lamp and Ray Franklin at the guard posts.

Local tonight South Side plays its first home encounter Friday, entertaining Northwestern.

The 1960-61 schedule follows:

SOUTH SIDE

Dec. 1 Beaver Local away

Dec. 4 Northwestern home

Dec. 8 W. Allegheny away

Dec. 11 Burgettstown away

Dec. 15 Newell home

Robertson, Cincy Open Cage Season Tonight

The Bearcats also have a 6-8 junior, Mel Landfried, who saw some action last season, and 6-10 sophomore Ron Reis. Neither has shown the promise of Hogue in practice.

Bob Wiesenhahn, 6-4 junior and a seasoned player, has won the starting front rank job with Robertson.

Ralph Davus, 6-4, a top man on any non-Robertson squad and co-captain with Oscar, starts his third year as a regular.

With Davis in the backcourt is Carl Bouldin, 6-1 junior who improved strongly last season.

He was the nation's leading scorer for two years and this season will probably exceed the all-time mark for a college player. He needs 626 points for that, after piling up 1,962 in the two previous seasons.

Robertson is also perhaps the big reason Cincinnati's home games are all sellouts.

Shut-Ins Get Cheer Baskets

Members of the Cora Cope Memorial Class of the Rogers Methodist Church distributed 33 baskets of candy, cookies and fruit to the sick and shut-ins Thanksgiving. Mrs. Ruby McMillan is the teacher.

Judge and Mrs. Frank Cope of Carrollton visited Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Cora Cope and had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cope. Misses Agnes Cope and Betty Stephens of Lakewood spent the Thanksgiving holiday with Mrs. Ruth Cope.

Miss Zoe Thomas of Cleveland, daughter of Mrs. Essie Thomas, spent the Thanksgiving vacation at home.

Mrs. Welcome Layman and daughter, Anna Bell, of White Pigeon, Mich., have concluded a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Jess Smith Jr. They were accompanied home by Miss Ilene Lower, who will remain for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Bell and daughters, Sandra and Maureen, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rudibaugh of East Liverpool.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Adams of Salem were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sherman.

Thanksgiving guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hampson were Mr. and Mrs. Will Young of Boardman and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wilson of Calcutta.

Mrs. Ida Morris has returned from a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Rudibaugh of Niles.

Man Receives Injury

To Heel In Arroyo Fall
A Newell area man is in "good" condition today at City Hospital with a heel injury received in a fall while working Monday afternoon.

George Cawthon of Arroyo was admitted to the hospital at 1 a. m. after being treated and released Monday afternoon for a possible fractured heel suffered in a 15-foot fall while at work at the Koppers Co. plant.

Randy McAvo, 22-month-old son of Donald McAvo of Route 2 near Chester was treated at the hospital yesterday morning for a laceration on the back of the head suffered in a fall while playing at home.

Nice Christmas Gift, No Electric Bills

MIDDLEBORO, Mass. (AP) — Santa Claus will slide down a utility pole in Middleboro this Christmas and if lights seem unusually bright, there'll be a reason.

The municipal electric plant will issue no bills for December service.

And just to get the New Year off to a good start, the selectmen also decreed Monday night a 20 per cent discount for those who pay bills within 10 days during the first three months of 1960.

Faces Brawl Hearing

CINCINNATI (AP)—A second student from Cincinnati Walnut Hills High School must appear in Juvenile Court for his part in a brawl at a Thanksgiving football game which two off-duty policemen tried to break up. Police said the 16-year-old boy told them Monday one officer "grabbed at me and I hit him." The youth and another, taken into custody last week, said they did not know the men were officers.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

We Inherit Structure, Not Fat

Can we blame our excess weight on what our ancestors ate? No, for we do not inherit body fat. Is there an inborn tendency to gain weight in certain spots?

Yes, for we do inherit our structure and along with structure there is an inherited tendency for the fat to go to certain spots.

Dr. Alfred L. By Ida Jean Kain George, in his excellent book entitled "Your Weight and Your Life", expresses it this way: "Just as we inherit certain characteristics, such as the color of eyes and hair, the contours and shape of the body and other physical configurations, so we inherit the normal variations of the distributions of fat underlying the skin."

Some women are naturally inclined to be heavy in the upper part of the body; others to be heavy through the hips and thighs. Some of us are short-waisted. Others, like Marilyn Monroe, have an eight-inch span between the natural waistline and the top of the hipbones. Those of us who have an apple-dumpling type figure take on weight-at-the waist most readily. It's easy to see that ten extra pounds added to a short-waisted figure bunch up more.

Summed up, when pounds pile on, the fat will tend to go to the fat-susceptible spots. But before you shout "framed," here is an important fact to bear in mind: Fat couldn't come on in the first place — or in the second place either — unless your calories exceed your needs.

There is only one way by which fat is added — when you eat more than you use up in energy. All excess calories are converted into body fat.

Bring your weight to the level that is desirable or your structure, tone the muscles in the fat-susceptible spots, and you will have a better-than-average figure.

How do you figure the best weight for your structure?

ALLOW 100, 105, or 110 pounds for the first five feet of height, depending on whether your frame is slight, medium, or large. Then add five pounds for each inch by which your height exceeds 5 feet or subtract 5 pounds for each inch under 5 feet.

Height is computed without shoes, weight without clothing. When there is any question as to the size of your frame, settle for medium and start with the basic 105 pounds for 5 feet of height.

Send a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope for "Ideal Weight Chart" and "Take Your Measure." Address Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Postcard request cannot be answered.

Suit Asks $20,000

LISBON — Herbert J. Gee filed a civil action for $20,000 Monday in Common Pleas Court against Glen Hoobler of Salem in connection with the traffic death of his son, Thomas Gee, 4, on Nov. 23, 1957. Gee alleges his son was struck and fatally injured at a Salem intersection by a car driven by the defendant.

House Republican Leader Discounts Any Cut In Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana discounted today the chance of tax cuts in the coming session of Congress.

While there may be some tax legislation, Halleck said in an interview, "I don't look for any tax cuts."

The House Ways and Means Committee currently is conducting hearings on general tax law revision. It is expected to recommend legislation to plug loopholes and remove inequities in the present tax structure.

Some Democrats and Republicans are clamoring for tax relief for lower-income taxpayers, either through an increase in personal exemption allowances or a cut in rates.

Halleck said he didn't see how taxes could be cut and the budget kept in balance.

"We must have a balanced budget," he said, and predicted that the 1960 election-year session of Congress would be highlighted by "another battle of the budget."

Rabbi Feurlicht Dies

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Rabbi Morris M. Feurlicht, 80, who once debated agnostic Clarence Darrow on the subject, "Is Man a Machine?" died Monday after a long illness.

To Offer Stock Sale

NEW YORK (AP) — A group managed by Pearson, Murphy & Co. is expected to offer 300,000 common shares of Force-Alume Co. at $1 a share on the stock market today, it was announced. Proceeds will be used by the Alliance, Ohio, company to build a new plant and for additional working capital, the report stated.

2 Killed, 3 Injured In Unusual Car Mishap

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A woman getting out of a car accidentally bumped the gas pedal, and the car shot onto a sidewalk thronged with Christmas shoppers. Two persons were killed and three injured. Margaret Powell, 43, and a man tentatively identified as S. C. Reppe, about 65, both pedestrians, died.

Sophia Ortigas, 28, whose husband said she inadvertently started the automatic transmission car into motion, was among the injured. The other two were pedestrians.

The car shot through a red light, caromed off another automobile and smashed onto the sidewalk at a department store.

Who is bringing in new industries... adding jobs... building income for OHIOANS?

No one group can take all the credit... but your electric utilities are mighty proud of their share in "selling" Ohio. Through their area development departments, Ohio's electric utilities conduct a continuous program of national advertising and personal contact to attract new industries to our state.

How successfully is this work being done?

The answer is in Ohio's industrial growth. We have moved to third place in manufacturing. In just 10 years, 200,000 manufacturing jobs have been added—plus 148,000 jobs in service and related fields.

All Ohio benefits—more jobs...more paychecks...larger markets for goods...better living for all Ohioans!
